2 Victoria Boys Missing

Two Victoria boys are reported missing on a merchantman torpedoed by enemy action on the Atlantic.

They are:

Douglas J. Lane, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert V. Lane, 1048 Pendergast Street, and Basil Moraes, 31, brother of J. T. Moraes, 1270 Oak Mount Road.

G. L. V. Smith of Chilliwack, son-in-law of Mrs. L. B. Dunn, 530 Rithet Street, also is reported missing.

Only a year ago, Douglas Lane was aboard the former French freighter St. Malo, which was torpedoed. He was injured and returned here to recuperate.

For a decade, Lane was identified with Canadian National Steamships and before the war was chief steward of Ss. Prince Henry, plying in the cruise service between eastern Canadian ports and the British West Indies. He was second steward of the ship recently sunk.

He has a younger brother, Maurice, with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Britain. Leslie and Herbert are at home.

WAS QUARTERMASTER

Basil Moraes served as quartermaster on the lost freighter. He has five brothers, his parents being dead.

His father, Capt. George Moraes, was lost in the wreck of the steamer Alaskan on this coast many years ago.

The wife of Mr. Smith lives in Chilliwack. He has two sons, seven and nine.

VANCOUVER ENGINEERS

Parents of two Vancouver seamen have been notified their sons are missing on a Canadian ship presumed lost at sea.

DOUGLAS LANE

The Vancouver men are Gordon Hanna, 23, son of Dr. Morton Hanna, and Malcolm Forbes, son of Rev. H. Stuart Forbes. Both men were engineers aboard the vessel.

Mrs. Paul Smet of Montreal has been notified that her two sons, Jacques and Jean, are missing at sea. They joined the ship as cooks in September.

Some Nova Scotia families have received official notification of the deaths of relatives as the result of enemy action at sea. It was believed they were lost aboard a merchant ship. The victims included:

Burris McLeod, 19, Austria Lake, Halifax County, member of the Royal Canadian Navy, believed serving as a gunner on a merchant ship, and Harris MacPhail, Pictou, merchant seaman

Moscow Attack Dwindles; Nazis Push on in South

Associated Press

The pressure on Moscow was reported today by the Soviet news agency, Tass, to have eased up everywhere on the front except on the northwest flank, where a strong tank and infantry offensive was continued by the Germans.

The Nazi offensive in other regions was confined to attacks by small detachments. Even on the northwest flank the news agency said the Red army had repeatedly counter-attacked and checked the German drive.

Soviet workers fought alongside Red army troops today in a bloody series of battles around Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, as the Germans stepped up the fury of their 30-day-old drive on the Soviet capital from two directions.

Stiffest Fighting In Kalinin Area

Tass said tank-led Nazi forces were driving hard on Moscow's northwest flank—apparently in the Kalinin sector, 95 miles northwest of the capital—but that heavy artillery fire and repeated Red counter-attacks were checking the German advance.

To the west and southwest of Moscow, Tass reported Soviet troops were not only holding their defence positions but improving them in some salients.

Germans Claim Big Gains in Crimea

On the southern (Ukraine) front, Hitler's high command claimed the Russians were in full flight under the assault of German and Rumanian troops smashing into the Crimea Peninsula.

Apparently heading for Russia's Black Sea naval base of Sebastopol, 100 miles across the Crimea, German flame-throwers, tanks and troops supported by strong aerial attacks were reported to have broken through the Crimea's bottleneck gateway two days ago.

Soviet dispatches gave no hint of a precipitate retreat, declaring Red army troops and marines were counter-attacking fiercely, aided by planes of the Russian Black Sea fleet.

Dispatches from Kuibyshev, auxiliary Soviet capital, said all Crimean men capable of bearing arms were being mustered to stem the Nazi onslaught.

The Crimea is strategically important both as controlling the northern waters of the Black Sea and as providing a short-cut route to the Caucasus oil fields across the narrow Kerch Strait.

Enemy Admits Stubborn Resistance

Resolute Soviet defence of Moscow, as well as of Leningrad, was acknowledged by German military sources.

On the Moscow front, it was admitted, German troops were encountering the stiffest kind of opposition.

Reports reaching London said German field armies of Field Marshal Gen. Fedor von Bock probed Moscow's defences for possible weak spots at Tula and Volokolamsk.

Volokolamsk itself, a cotton town 65 miles northwest of Moscow, was claimed in German possession after changing hands three times in fighting begun Tuesday.

These dispatches said decisive repulse of all attacks on the Russian defence were before the capital was reported by the Soviet government, which said workers of Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, fought shoulder to shoulder with Red Army troops holding the left wing.

Germans Attempt Pincers Move

A modified pincers movement rather than a frontal assault apparently was the German plan and the Russians were declared in London to have countered with a determined right wing offensive at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of the capital, a Volga River city due north of Volokolamsk.

The Soviet information bureau's midday communique did not stress this action, simply reporting that Russian "stubbornly fought the enemy in Volokolamsk, Mozhaisk, Maloyaroslavets and Tula directions" overnight.

German report said heavy army batteries had scored telling blows on important military objectives in Leningrad.

Nazis Sink U.S. Destroyer 'Not Surprising', Says Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. destroyer Reuben James was torpedoed and sent to the bottom west of Iceland Thursday night, the first American warship lost since the war began.

No news has been received of her crew. The ship was on convoy duty, the Navy Department stated.

President Roosevelt, in a press conference, crisply said the attack would not change United States policy. He said he had not thought of the possibility of cutting off diplomatic relations with Germany, because of the sinking.

The Reuben James ordinarily carried six officers and 114 men. Her captain was Lieut. Commander H. L. Edwards. Whether the 21-year-old warship or accompanying ships were able to wreak any damage on U-boats was undisclosed.

The Navy Department said the James carried life-saving equipment sufficient to meet the needs of many more officers and men than comprised her complement. She was equipped with two 26-foot motor whale boats, each having a normal capacity of 24 persons and capable of carrying more in an emergency.

Similar in Type To Traded Ships

The Reuben James was described at the Navy Department as an O-type flush-deck destroyer, said to be similar to the type traded to Great Britain. She was 314 feet long, with a beam of 30 feet and a displacement of 1,190 tons.

The President said the Reuben James was simply carrying out a duty assigned to her.

Reporters pressed Mr. Roosevelt for information whether American warships had sunk any German submarines, but the President said he would not tell them if there had been such sinkings.

He made it clear that the reason for withholding information on sinkings, if there have been any, was for the effect of the morale of crews of other Nazi undersea craft.

"Is it the policy to announce when our ships are sunk and not when those attacking them have been sunk?" a reporter inquired.

Mr. Roosevelt recalled that his questioner was around in World War days, and that sinking of German ships was not announced then although casualties to American vessels were.

"You can't keep it secret from Germany, can you?" was the next question.

The reply was: Oh, yes, for a long time, and that's the point."

Capture of Sub By Airplane?

He said he might tell it and might not when he was asked whether it would be announced should a plane capture a submarine, but he objected to a question with an if in it.

Mr. Roosevelt related how, in the summer of 1918, when he was Assistant Secretary of the Navy, a French blimp in which he himself had flown the previous day over the Bay of Biscay thought he saw the shape of a submarine which had been molesting shipping entering the mouth of the Loire River.

The shape was in about 100 feet of water, and the blimp dropped a bomb over it. Planes returned later and so did submarine chasers and dropped depth charges. Oil came up and there was rejoicing that a submarine had been sunk.

But the President said no claim was made that a sub had been destroyed and that actually it was not known definitely that one had been. But after the war, he said, divers explored the area and found that a submarine had been hit.

But Germany did not know what had happened to that ship, whether it was captured or destroyed or simply was missing, he said. This had an important effect on the morale of crews of other submarines, Mr. Roosevelt asserted.

Asked whether crews of other submarines now had cause to wonder, the President laughed the question aside.

U.S. Expects Sharper Attacks

LONDON (CP)—An authoritative British spokesman today described the sinking of the U.S. destroyer Reuben James as a clear indication Germany has declared "indiscriminate submarine warfare against the United States."

Informed quarters had expressed belief the U-boat might have mistaken the Reuben James for one which had been transferred by the United States to Britain.

The spokesman said "the United States can expect heavier and heavier attacks against her shipping west of Iceland."

He described the number of German submarines operating in the Atlantic as "enormous."

"Germany can not really reach her objective unless she goes for such shipping," he said, referring to vessels using the north Atlantic sea lanes.

Range of U-Boats Greatly Increased

He said Germany recently had concentrated on making submarines of 500 to 800 tons with a range of 8,000 to 10,000 miles at "economical speed." Such craft could operate easily west of Iceland.

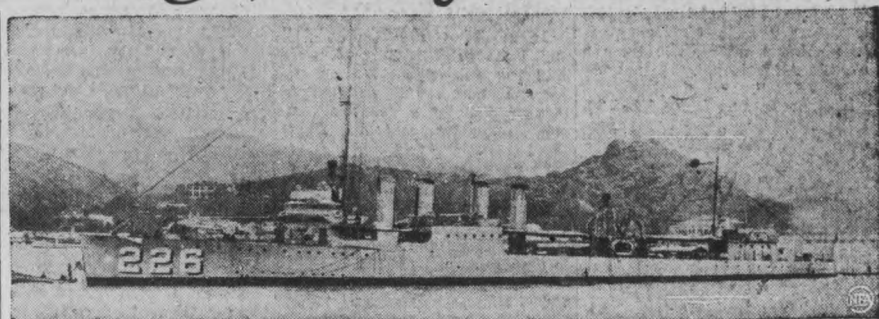

The spokesman said intensive British air reconnaissance between Britain and Iceland had driven the U-boats farther west, making the area west of Iceland their natural field of operations.

"However, this menace can be met," he added, "by increasing air reconnaissance on the other side of the Atlantic and naturally from Iceland itself."

Germans State Their Opinion

BERLIN (AP)—If the United States destroyer Reuben James was participating in a convoy "it was no wonder that she was torpedoed," an authorized source asserted tonight.

"A convoy is an English affair and whoever participates in it becomes part of an English formation. "I am certainly glad it was not our U-boat that was sunk but rather the American destroyer that was torpedoed. American destroyers have no business entering the war zone."

Deaths in Alberta Pit

30 Miners Trapped

EDMONTON (CP)—About 30 coal miners were trapped and probably killed today in a blast which shook the No. 3 section of the Breazeau Collieries at Nordegg, Alta., about 150 miles southwest of Edmonton. In the foothills of the Rocky Mountains.

J. Hanks, general superintendent of the mine, reported in a telephone conversation between Nordegg and Edmonton, the blast, of undetermined cause, occurred at 9 a.m. M.S.T. He had already seen three bodies and the other men still in the mine were "probably dead."

He said foul air was preventing mine rescue teams from reaching the other miners. He added there were only minor cave-ins and there was no fire after the blast.

About 200 men have been employed at the mine, which is working on a 24-hour basis, but only some 30 were in No. 3 section at the time of the explosion.

James Stewart is mine manager.

Reports from Nordegg said the streets of that small town of 800 population were almost deserted as nearly everyone hurried over two miles of road to the mine shaft. Relatives of mine workers crowded to the mine entrance anxiously waiting word from the rescue workers.

Further details of the explosion were not available immediately at Edmonton because there is only one telephone line into the little foothills mining town and after the brief conversation with Mr. Hanks, officials of the mine refused to answer telephone calls.

Final Bulletins

Canada Sells Wheat

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister MacKinnon this evening said he would soon take a position to make an announcement on wheat sales, but described as "wholly incorrect" a report in the Ottawa Journal to the effect Canada has sold 150,000,000 bushels to the British government.

Fire Ruins Grain

BEAUSEJOUR, Man. (CP)—Fire believed caused by a hotbox in the interior machinery, destroyed the Lake of the Woods elevator, housing 60,000 bushels of grain, here today. Building and contents were covered by insurance.

882,398 in Montreal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics today reported the census last June showed Montreal's population at 882,398, compared with 818,577 in 1933, and Winnipeg's population at 217,994, compared with 218,785.

Hit-run Driver Hunted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today were seeking the driver of a car which struck six-year-old Kenneth Gladu Thursday night while the youngster was crossing a street. The lad suffered fractures of both legs and head injuries. The car did not stop.

Report Denied

CANBERRA (AP)—Prime Minister John Curtin today denied a report the Royal Australian Air Force men were fighting on the Rostov front in the Russo-German war.

Too Big for Japan

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Labor Minister P. C. Webb, addressing naval base workers, said today Japan knows it would be shouldering "no easy task" if it should set out to attempt to take New Zealand and Australia.

Ban for Nazis

BERLIN (AP)—The German people, often told conquered Europe would be Germany's breadbasket, were warned tonight against using canned and fresh pork from occupied countries.

Nazi authorities admitted an outbreak of trichinosis, intestinal and muscular disease, was caused by eating infected pork—from the occupied areas.

Not Discussed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian navy has nothing to say regarding the possibilities of German submarine supply ships operating in the neighborhood of Baffin Bay, between the west coast of Greenland and Canada.

A navy spokesman made this clear this afternoon when, in connection with the sinking of the U.S. destroyer Reuben James, he was queried regarding a statement attributed to a British spokesman in London that such supply ships could operate in the Baffin Bay area.

STRIKE SETTLED

NEW YORK (AP)—A five-day-old strike at the Robins drydock, involving 5,800 workers and repair work on 14 British and United States ships, was settled today.

France Still Great, Says Col. Britton

LONDON (CP)—"Colonel (V for Victory) Britton" of BBC told the subjugated nations of Europe today France had demonstrated she "is a great nation, still in the war and still fighting."

The mystery radio speaker declared France's demonstrations for her "martyrs"—hostages executed by the occupying forces—would show the Germans she is unconquered.

He said Britain's Allies also were remembering the "martyrs" of other countries overrun by the Nazis and added:

"We think also of the many German and Austrian martyrs fouly murdered and tortured in Nazi concentration camps by creatures who can no longer be called human beings."

He said the executed dead had roused the conscience of the world and brought nearer "the ending of this savagery."

U.S. Air Liner Crashes In Canada, 20 Killed

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—The grim task of removing bodies from a crashed and burned American Airlines transport plane was carried out by Ontario provincial police today while they awaited arrival of Washington officials to probe the crash that cost 20 lives.

Later three inspectors of the United States civil aeronautics board arrived to take part in the official investigation, directed by transport officials of Canada.

Seventeen passengers and the crew of three, all those aboard the airliner on its regular Buffalo-Detroit flight, were killed when the plane Thursday night fell through rain into an outfield on the farm of Thompson Howe of Lawrence Station, 14 miles west of here. The crew and passengers were Americans.

Vichy Claims Standstill Call Ignored Today

VICHY (AP)—Vichy authorities today claimed the population of this capital of the Petain regime "virtually" ignored the Free French request for a 5-minute standstill demonstration in protest against the German execution of hostages.

The ministry of the interior gave out a story that it had made a check-up of various sections in the unoccupied zone and claimed the De Gaulle appeal had had no apparent results, no unusual incidents being reported anywhere.

Associated Press correspondents, on a survey of Vichy, saw only six persons observing the De Gaulle order. They were five men and one woman who stood in front of the Church of St. Louis in the heart of Vichy, watching a tower clock tick off the five minutes from 4 to 4.05 p.m.

Around them busy traffic passed without noticing them. Normal mid-afternoon trading was going on in the stores of the workers' districts on the outskirts of the town as well as in the centre, the correspondents noted.

The call for the demonstration was issued by Gen. de Gaulle from London last Saturday. For five minutes today Frenchmen were asked to stand still at their occupations in silent protest.

(Gen. de Gaulle and his staff stood silently in Free French headquarters in London for five minutes at 4 p.m. (7 a.m., P.S.T.) today.)

Shortly before the deadline Gen. Otto von Stuepel, commander of the German forces in France, announced release of two French prisoners of war in compensation for the supplying of information to the German authorities by their relatives.

Only last Thursday Von Stuepel had held out the offer of releasing such prisoners if their families should deliver to the authorities information concerning terrorists who have slain German officers in Nantes and Bordeaux.

Congressmen's Opinions

U.S. Closer to War Following Sinking

WASHINGTON (AP)—The sinking of the destroyer Reuben James brought congressional expressions today that the incident would lead the United States closer to an all-out war with Germany and would hasten Senate action on legislation revising the Neutrality Act.

One opponent of administration foreign policy, Senator Guy Gillette, Democrat, Iowa, told reporters "America will protect her seamen, no matter what mission they are on."

Remarking the navy had announced the Reuben James was on convoy duty west of Iceland when a torpedo sent it to the bottom, Gillette added "it does not matter how unwise may have been the vessel's duty, the fact remains that the sailors were obeying their government's orders and they thus were justified in feeling that America should give them every protection."

Senator Styles Bridges, Republican, New Hampshire, an advocate of outright repeal of the Neutrality Law, said "this is just one more indication that the United States must stand up for its rights. We can not afford to be driven from the seas."

ARGUMENT CLINCHED

Bridges and Senator Chandler Gurney, Republican, South Dakota, said the incident demonstrated the neutrality statute should be repealed, instead amended. "This clinches the argument," Gurney declared.

Other comment: Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, Kansas—"This apparently brings us closer to a fighting war. I believe, however, that any question of the United States going into war should be put up to Congress."

Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma—"If we are going to get up into that country, we are going to get into trouble. That is all there is to it."

Senator Wallace White (Republican, Maine): "This is simply another demonstration that Hitler is out to attack and sink."

Senator Alva Adams (Democrat, Colorado): "This indicates the Nazis are not going to let all of the shooting be on one side."

could be found. Some were addressed to the United States army post at Fort Bragg, they said, and two cheques made out to the Ford Motor Co.—one for $3,500 and the other for $2,400—were salvaged.

Rev. A. G. Taylor, pastor of Lawrence Station United Church, was on his way home from a visit with neighbors when "something about the plane made me look."

"It was very low and it was circling lower and lower," he said. "I said to myself, 'it's going to crash,' but it held up a little longer. Then it hit and it was a terrible sight. The flames must have extended half a mile in the air."

Mr. Taylor said he had the impression that only one of the plane's motors was functioning and that the pilot may have been trying to make an emergency landing.

Lewis Biddle, Lawrence Station storekeeper, said that as the plane came near the ground just before the crash it shot straight up but then appeared to sideslip and plunged. A bright light in the sky led him to believe the pilot dropped a flare.

The first officer of the plane was R. L. Owens, 30, of New York City.

Saskatchewan Minister Takes Post

Taggart Named Food Czar For Price Control Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointment of Hon. J. G. Taggart of Regina as food administrator, and Roy Beverley Whitehead, K.C., of Toronto, chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, as deputy administrator of retail trade, was announced today by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Harold M. Long of Montreal was named special assistant to Finance Minister Isley, charged with assisting the minister and the board in setting up the organization of the board which will be required to administer the recently announced price ceiling policy.

Mr. Taggart, who has been Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan since 1934, will be responsible, as food administrator under the board, for the organization of supply and the control of prices of all foods except sugar and flour.

Sugar remains under the sugar controller and flour is under the flour and feeds administrator. It was assumed Mr. Taggart would continue as chairman of the Canadian Bacon Board.

The prices board said the jurisdiction of the food administrator would not extend into the retail trade and price field since retail trade and prices are under the supervision of E. G. Burton of Toronto, administrator of retail trade, whose appointment was announced a few days ago.

AID ORGANIZATION

Mr. Whitehead will serve as general assistant to Mr. Burton, with particular attention to organizing and supervising the system of regional and local offices throughout Canada which will be charged with carrying out the policy of freezing prices at current levels.

Head office of the retail trade administration will be in Toronto.

As special assistant to the Finance Minister, Mr. Long will be on loan from Morris W. Wilson, president of the Royal Bank of Canada and chairman of the British Supply Council in North America, for a maximum period of four months.

Hitler Can't Take Moscow, Stalin Tells Hopkins

Moscow Defence Pattern

Defenders of Moscow, falling back under attack by millions of Germans, may have stopped the Nazis for the winter and saved the Soviet capital with pattern of defence shown on map. The closer the Russians are pushed to Moscow, the stronger their more compact line of defence becomes, with counter-attacks and guerrilla assaults also hindering the Nazis.

Hitler will never take Moscow, in spite of the terrific power of the Nazi drive, and the battleline will remain west of the Soviet capital, in the opinion of Premier Joseph V. Stalin. The Soviet leader's flat prediction, made personally to United States Lend-Admin Administrator Harry Hopkins, is revealed for the first time today by Hopkins in a signed article in the American Magazine.

Hopkins, who flew to Moscow to confer with Stalin as President Roosevelt's personal representative, quotes the Russian Premier as follows:

"We Russians shall win this war. The battlefront will remain west of Moscow. Russia will not fall. Russia is huge, Russia is inexorable. Russia is fighting—for Russia. She will not again be enslaved."

Stalin concluded his prediction with the sentence: "Once we trusted this man," and Hopkins reports that as the Russian dictator referred to Hitler his manner was more eloquent than his words.

"It was only when he mentioned Hitler," Hopkins writes, "that he discarded his suave assurance. Then his body grew tense. He didn't raise his voice; rather it went as cold as his eyes and the mellow harshness of it became grating. Of Hitler he spoke slowly, not measuring his words nor considering his phrasing, but as if he wanted the interpreter he had assigned to me to convey to me every syllable in its implication and direct meaning."

"For Hitler he had more than the anger he would necessarily have for a man who had double-crossed him; it was a personal hatred that I have seldom heard expressed by anyone in authority. The cold, implacable hatred he has for the German was clearly evident. Stalin's huge hands half clenched. I think that Joseph Stalin would have liked nothing better at that moment than to have had Hitler sitting where I sat. His hands seemed to feel for something. Germany would have needed a new chancellor."

Hopkins' description of Moscow's air raid defenses would seem to bear out Stalin's view that the city is impregnable. Explaining that everyone is forced to go to shelters during a raid, or face arrest, he writes: "Moscow's ring of anti-aircraft defences and guns make London's puny. Even if they'd let you, you wouldn't watch a raid on Moscow from the roof—not more than once. The downpour of shrapnel from Moscow's 'ack-acks' would mince you."

Summing up the aid Stalin hopes to get from the United States, Hopkins emphasized that it was material and not men.

"Stalin doesn't want our army or our navy," he states. "Russia wants to fight her war herself. Her manpower reserves are huge. But Stalin also told me frankly what Russia needs, that her men and women may give all their strength to the cause which is ours as well as hers."

"Stalin asked for tanks, for planes, for big guns, anti-aircraft guns, anti-tank guns, for ammunition and for the superb high octane gasoline that America produces and is shipping to England. Stalin asked for huge quantities of barbed wire, too."

"You're wondering, perhaps, why Russia with all her great oil fields should want gasoline off us. That's easily explained. High octane gas is American. America alone produces the best. Planes powered by high octane have enormous advantage in speed over those using low octane."

Cats, Dogs' Heads Eaten in France

LONDON (CP) — France's sunny south no longer is known as the "garden of France," according to reports received by Free French authorities. Food and wine and anything with a fat basis have become luxuries.

In the university city of Montpellier some people have been forced to kill cats and steal dogs' heads from rubbish cans to supplement the meagre rations, it was reported. Soap is so scarce many peasants scour the woods for ivy, which blackens their bodies but washes away grime and grease.

Food shops, once an attractive feature of southern France, have few supplies on their shelves. Most windows contain only thin slices of hard bread, spread with something resembling jam or decorated with faded raisins.

One village grocer, more daring than the rest, placed a jar of jam in a window and under it tacked a notice which read: "Guaranteed to contain neither fruit nor sugar."

MISSING OVERSEAS

EDMONTON (CP) — P.O. Lloyd Young, 23, of the R.C.A.F. is missing after air operations overseas, his mother, Mrs. E. A. Greig, has been advised.

He graduated from one of the schools operated under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan at Saskatoon with the rank of sergeant-pilot and shortly after arriving in England won his pilot officer's commission.

At Regina, the airman's wife, the former Gwen McArthur of Saskatoon, has just left hospital with her baby son, born two weeks ago. Word that P.O. Young was missing was cabled to his wife, who telephoned Mrs. Greig here.

Nazi Defeat Sure If U.S. Helps

WASHINGTON (AP) — William L. Batt, a member of a recent United States mission to Moscow, says the Russian soldiers are equal to the Nazis, man for man, and if American aid can keep them fighting Germany's defeat is assured.

Further, he feels certain Russia will never accept a separate peace with Hitler.

"If Russia can be kept on her feet—fighting—there can be no doubt that the combined resources of the British Empire, Russia and the United States must finally crush Hitler," Batt said.

Time For Facts

THREE MONTHS AGO IN THESE columns we suggested that resolutions demanding conscription for the most part were phrased in general terms, that some of them were more marked for their political implications than for their apparent desire to discuss the matter objectively, and that what the average Canadian would like to know was how many men Canada required for essential war industries and related services, and what number of workers might be considered the irreducible minimum for the production of consumer goods in their curtailed variety and quantity.

For example: With the information supplied to it by national registration statistics more than a year ago one would have thought it possible for the government to decide within a reasonable distance of the mark how many men and women are required for: 1, the farms; 2, the factories; 3, the mines; 4, the fisheries; 5, the forests; 6, for the varied rural and urban activities indirectly involved in the war effort; 7, how many, at present in uniform would be rendering better war service were they in industry instead of in the forces.

If it is possible to reach a conclusion on the foregoing points, would it not be a comparatively simple matter to set a figure from which potential selectees, under some form of compulsory military service, could be drawn? What, for instance, is the potential surplus of nonessential manpower labor in categories to which a conscription law would apply? Parliament will be assembling in Ottawa next week and it is safe to predict Mr. King and his Ministers will be challenged to say what policy they intend to adopt with respect to this important phase of Canada's war effort.

No assistance can be expected from Mr. Hanson. The speech the Conservative House leader delivered at the Albany Club luncheon in Toronto suggests that he and those who support him are hopelessly at sea. Here are some of his remarks:

"I have been urged to declare for conscription of manpower. What would happen if I did? Immediately the Conservative Party in Parliament nailed conscription to its masthead we'd consolidate all those forces that have been opposed to us since 1917 and they would be marshalled against us. Conscription is bound to come to the fore more and more insistently—but it must come from the people themselves. To make it a political move would defeat the very purpose of those who would have it in view. Some will disagree with this view. I have studied it from every angle. If it were put to a plebiscite I don't know what would happen. I wish you could see the letters I have received—letters from mothers who say they didn't raise their boy to be a soldier."

Few public men in Canada in recent times have thrown up their arms with such an apparent feeling of indecision. Yet Mr. Hanson aspires to the leadership of the Conservative Party of this country. The press which supports him should advise him to tell Parliament whether he is in favor of conscription or not. Meanwhile, as the Vancouver Sun neatly puts it, "party leaders across the country may be realizing that Mr. Hanson has laid a very large political egg." And the egg is known by many varieties.

Smasher-in-Chief

BENITO MUSSOLINI HAS TOLD HIS dupes that the United States would "perish" with Russia and Britain; and that "in spite of all coalitions, we will smash every obstacle." We have heard a good deal of this kind of talk since Italy struck at prostrate France last year, but Stefani, the Fascist propaganda agency, rather put its foot into this glowing picture of things to come when it said yesterday that Italian troops on the eastern front had been halted and put on the defensive for the last eight days by counter-attacking Russians. Not only did Il Duce's publicity department announce to the world in explicit terms that the force in question "has not had a moment's peace and rest" for more than a week; it reported that the enemy was investing it from the flanks "and attempting to strike it from the rear."

The plain fact continues to emphasize itself: The heart of the Italian soldier is not in this war. Despite the numerical superiority and preponderance of mechanized equipment Mussolini's forces cut a sorry figure when they invaded Greece a year ago. Had it not been for the new developments in the Balkans, the arrival of vast German hordes, the mountain fighters of King George II would by this time have thrown the men of Italy into the sea. They were no match for the numerically inferior and under-equipped British and imperial troops last winter. It was the same tale in East Africa and Ethiopia. Territorial recovery in Libya was possible only with the assistance of Germany—simplified, of course, by the removal of the great bulk of General Wavell's army and equipment to the Balkans. Every time the little man in Rome talks about smashing anything—save the hopes and desires of the Italian people—he merely makes himself look more ridiculous, if that be possible.

Japanese Double-talk

ONE OF THE HOPES JUST EXPRESSED by a Tokyo spokesman is that Washington will bring itself to "deepen its understanding" of Japan's position. To which he added: "We must not forget that Japan has a role to play at the close of the German-Soviet war. After the fall of Moscow and Leningrad, the Soviets will undoubtedly take to guerrilla warfare, in which case the Soviet Union ceases to be what it used to be. Japan should have a trump card to play at that time."

By contrasting the naivete of the suggestion of a "deepening" of United States "understanding" with the playing of a "trump card" against Russia our friends at Washington and the world in general will detect a fair sample of Japanese double-talk. The neighboring Republic neither desires nor needs enlightenment on Japan's position. The men of Tokyo have accepted and adopted the Nazi blueprint for their policies of aggrandizement in the Far East. It is only a little less specific than the Teutonic scheme outlined in Hitler's "Mein Kampf." And it is almost as old in its general concept; calling it a design for a "co-prosperity sphere" in East Asia merely streamlines it.

Back in September, 1931, when the rest of the world seemed to be completely engulfed in the problems of the depression and when China was hopelessly divided by civil war which separated the country into two camps but into half a dozen, each led by a different war lord, Tokyo precipitated the famous incident in Manchuria and timidly sent a handful of Japan's railroad troops "to restore order." The whole manoeuvre was a trial balloon to test whether the western powers and Russia would do anything. When nothing happened, Japan went ahead with the campaign which during the next four years brought all of Manchuria under its control, carried the Nipponese as far south as Peking and Tientsin, and gave them a big military foothold in Shanghai, where the British had long ruled the International Settlement and controlled the trade of the Yangtze valley. By the time the Japanese, in the summer of 1937, started their second great drive against the Chinese government, which brought about the capture of Nanking and the great Yangtze industrial region around Hankow, Moscow had made considerable progress in fortifying its Far Eastern provinces and building up a vast army with local farms and factories to feed and equip it. Even before the German invasion of Poland precipitated the present war, Moscow was credited with an armed force of more than 1,000,000 men in the Far East, a fleet—based at Vladivostok—of more than 125 submarines, and an air force well equipped with massive bombers easily capable of flying the 700 miles to Tokyo and back.

To what extent, if any, the forces of the Soviet Union have been weakened by withdrawals to help to stem the progress of the German Wehrmacht we do not know. What is clear to the uninitiated, however, is that Russia has deepened her understanding of Japan's position—and both Premier Stalin and President Roosevelt know that so long as Soviet forces hold Vladivostok, with its great naval and air bases, a dagger is pointed straight at the heart of the Japanese Empire. And even if Leningrad and Moscow should fall, the men of Tokyo may still hesitate to play their "trump card."

'Ah'

DOCTORS ACTING FOR THE UNITED States selective service board duly examined Mr. Joseph Louis—the gentleman who is known as the "Brown Bomber"—and by other names included in the fistic vocabulary. They measured his height. They put him on the scales. They examined his teeth and eyes. They tested his hearing. They took his blood pressure. They heard his heart beats. They told him to say "Ah." They listened to the rumbling in his chest to get a line on his lungs. Then, after they had cogitated, they solemnly reported that so far as physical condition was concerned Joe Louis would be all right for the American Army. Surely that was a waste of time. All the Army had to do was to call in either Max Baer or Buddy Baer or Billy Conn; or Tony Galento or Lou Nova or any one of several others; the "Brown Bomber" had made them all say "Ah."

FLIP-FLOPPING JAPAN

From New York Post

Why should we pay the slightest attention to Tokyo's transparent diplomatic frauds? Japan is a minor fascist puppet; that fact is proved by Tokyo's inability to pursue a clear-cut policy instead of flip-flopping with every turn in the war's progress. Why should we let the Japanese militarists continue to hold the diplomatic initiative?

Tokyo understands but one language, the language of force. The United States has made its point only when we have been tough with Japan (as in the matter of oil shipments to Vladivostok).

It is time for us to take the aggressive. We should tell Elki Tojo that further Japanese troop movements, either into Siberia or toward the South, will mean war with the United States. While we are telling him, we should fly a few loaded bombers to Vladivostok (603 air miles from Tokyo), just as a token of our resolve.

We should inform Japan, at the same time, that our pledge to defeat "Nazism" means Nazism in all its forms: for example, the barbaric Japanese attack upon the lands and peoples of China.

And, while we're talking concretely, we should show China that our words of encouragement are as good as planes and munitions, by starting redoubled shipments of war materials on their way to Hongkong.

SAD FACES

THE PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, one of America's distinguished newspapers, has lately conducted an important experiment in American culture. It has been publishing daily a column of original poetry and actually paying for it; not paying much, of course, about $1.50 a poem, but when did poets every worry about payment? What poet ever eats?

To the surprise of everybody, the readers of the Journal immediately took to poetry and poets from all over the United States, Canada and Britain eagerly sought in the new column an outlet for their pent-up muses, so that the editor found himself quite overwhelmed with genius.

I take this as a deep portent of life in America which no one up to now has suspected—America is yearning for poetry, and the publishers are not satisfying its appetite. This, surely, shows a side of the American character unknown to sociologists and beyond the reckoning of the politicians. America is not, as one supposed, a continent of business and stern money-grubbing, varied by occasional tunes of a juke box. America has poetry in it.

America also has poets. If you doubt it, come into the office of the editor of this newspaper any day and see the piled-up poems submitted from all over Vancouver Island. Why, it is an indisputable mathematical fact, based on latest population figures, that captains of industry must be writing poems, and bricklayers and garbage collectors and policemen on their beats. Hundreds of unknown fellows who masquerade as ordinary businessmen or plumbers, are secretly at work, behind the mask of their everyday faces, on some beautiful thought, enshrined in verse. I have often wondered what gives a policeman such a pensive look. Probably he is trying to find a word which rhymes with "love."

ON THE PILLOWS

ONCE WE HAD an authentic poet in this town, whose name I forget. He was a janitor in the Court House and in the depths of night, when all the city was asleep, he used to wander about this ancient prison, amid the ghosts of criminals who had been sentenced to death there, and he would pause in his rounds for a cup of tea and he would write down his thoughts about life. He was particularly attracted by human suffering, having a kind heart, and I remember one tragic poem about the pain-stricken patients of the Jubilee Hospital beginning:

"At that institution near the Willows,
We see sad faces on the pillows."

If the test of poetry is its quality to endure, that is poetry. No one who ever read it will ever forget it. I read it 20 years ago and it is, still fresh in my mind, and whenever I am inclined to complain at my lot in life I think of that institution near the Willows and I see sad faces on the pillows. Alas, the nameless poet of the Court House has gone and I have even lost his book. Reg. Hayward loaned it to me when he was mayor, and I may have made the mistake of returning it. If so, it was an oversight. I would dearly love to have the collection back again, for I do not believe that the old poetic level of the Court House has been equalled again.

BIRDS

THE MODERN POETS of the town do not have the ghosts of condemned criminals to inspire them in the middle of the night, and yet they continue to pour out their songs, as naturally and cheerfully as the little brown bird just outside my window. What a wonderful thing it is to realize that in this world chaos the flame still burns bravely in the policeman's breast and in the plumber's bosom. And why do editors refuse to publish the products of this burning? Why do they persist in publishing long accounts of war and politics and columns like this, when genius is fairly spouting on all sides, asking nothing, no payment, only the right to speak. In the name of common humanity, let them speak. Let us see again at that institution near the Willows the sad faces on the pillows.

The real trouble with editors, of course, is fear. They fear the poets. They know that a little man with a wild look in his eye will forever haunt them if he has one poem printed. He will not be satisfied with immortality, but must have it repeated again and again. The editor knows the elderly spinster who has thoughts that do often lie too deep for tears—for not for verse, invariably written on both sides of the paper, so that the printers will refuse to handle it. Once the lady's tears reach cold type she will return day after day with more tears, a veritable ocean of tears.

So the editor, with a natural instinct of self-preservation, keeps all poets at bay and at arm's length. Not because he is hard-hearted, as the poets imagine, but because he distrusts his own weakness. He cannot stand up to genius. He dissolves at the sight of tears. The sad faces on the pillows keep him awake at night. And that, my friends, is why the policeman's breast heaves in vain on his daily round of crime. That is why the plumber's bosom stifles with muttered rhyme. That is why life holds no poetry nowadays, only the sad faces of poets on the pillows.

Life tells us that cartoons are America's favorite form of art. This will surprise cartoonists—and art.

Parallel Thoughts

Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity: for vanity shall be his recompense.—Job 15:31.

Provided a man is not mad, he can be cured of every vanity.—Rousseau.

Hallowe'en

By E. ARMSTRONG

There is, perhaps, no night in the year which popular imagination has stamped with a more peculiar character than October 31, the night known as All Hallow's Eve. It is, like many popular observances, a relic of pagan times, for there is nothing in the church observance of All Saint's Eve to warrant the popular ideas and ceremonies with which it is associated.

SUPERNATURAL INFLUENCES

The leading idea of Hallowe'en is that it is the time of all others when supernatural influences prevail—the night when ghosts walk abroad, spirits of the visible and invisible world, and when mortals are supposed to be given the power of calling them up "from the vasty deep."

IN MANY LANDS

There is a remarkable uniformity in Hallowe'en customs in the different parts of the British Isles, as well as in many other countries. In most of these "rites" apples and nuts are used as mediums of fortune telling. Burns, in his poem, "Hallowe'en," says that—

"The auld guidwife's well hoordit nuts
Are round and round divided,
And many lads' and lassies' fates
Are then that night decided."

This refers to the old custom of putting nuts upon the bars of the fire grate, when the nut which splits first denotes a faithful lover.

As to apples, there is an old custom of hanging two strings from a rafter, one having a candle tied to one end, and the other an apple. The merry-makers leap up in succession and try to take bites out of the apple. Another old-timer is that of filling a tub with water and apples to see who can catch an apple in his mouth. Then there is the ceremony of the three dishes or luggies. These dishes are placed at the end of a table, two contain clean and dirty water respectively, and one is empty. Each person taking part in the game is blindfolded and told to dip his fingers in one of the saucers. According to the contents of the saucer chosen, so is the future of the player.

EERIE CUSTOMS

These games are of a sportive and humorous description, but there are other Hallowe'en ceremonies of a weird and frightening character. One is the popular spell of eating an apple before a mirror at midnight with the view of discovering the apparition of one's future husband or wife in the glass. Burns mentions a cautious maid—

"Wee Jenny to her granny says,
'Will you go wi' me granny?
I'll eat the apple at the glass
I gat frae Uncle Johnny'."

Another of what may be turned unhallowed rites is the ceremony of the sleeve. The sleeve of a shirt is dampened and put in front of the fire to dry—this has to be watched until midnight when the apparition of one's future life partner appears and turns down the sleeve.

Then there are spells connected with the sowing of hemp seed, exposing corn to the wind, gathering stalks of colewort, etc., all with the purpose of foretelling the future.

WITCHES

In earlier days there was a firm and popular belief in the existence of witches, and on All Hallow's Eve they were supposed to fly through the night seated on broomsticks, and woe betide the person on whom their baleful glances rested—his horse would be destroyed, his cattle die and sickness come upon all his family.

As the education of the masses increased the belief in witches waned but the cautious man or woman left an offering for the witches on his doorstep all the same, at least on Hallowe'en!

LUCKY BIRTHDAY

It is said that people born on All Hallow's Eve have great luck in casting spells and telling the future, and possess the faculty of being able to converse with the spirits of the departed. This is referred to by Sir Walter Scott in his novel "The Monastery."

MORE OBSERVANCES

Some of the old Hallowe'en customs have fallen into disuse, though many are kept up in their original form, but the modern custom of playing stupid and often dangerous pranks is much to be deplored. Many persons have been badly injured by carelessly thrown firecrackers, and Hallowe'en is often made an excuse for destroying property and doing a lot of damage. It is to be hoped that this year, when time and material are of great importance, boys and girls will find ways to amuse themselves without causing other people worry and loss.

Elmore Philpott

LETTER FROM B.C.

DEAR—Was glad to get your request for a confidential report on the political situation out here in British Columbia—as I intended to write something about it anyway for the paper. What I know about it is not very secret, but if you are willing to pay hard cash to find out "confidentially" that is your look-out.

First of all, you can forget all the talk about another election as a result of the supposed stalemate. The one thing that is absolutely certain is that there will be no new election if for no other reason than that the C.C.F. might come into power—and the C.C.F. leaders, not to mention the other fellows, are anything but anxious to have that happen just yet.

To deal with the parties: The Liberals are simply stalling when some of them indicate that they might attempt to carry on the government as a minority group holding the threat of dissolution, and another election, over the heads of the Legislature. Any such attempt would be met by a want of confidence motion on the very first day of the session, with the Tories and C.C.F. combining to oust Pattullo. As you know, the Lieutenant-Governor would then call upon someone else to form a government. This would almost certainly be some Liberal willing to include Conservatives as well as Liberals in his cabinet.

You might suggest that the situation is somewhat the same as that of 1925 at Ottawa when Mackenzie King lacked a clear majority in the house, and when after two cabinets were overthrown in Parliament, King fought the election on the constitutional issue and swept the country so decisively as to make inevitable the Statute of Westminster.

There is, of course, no real parallel. For in 1925 the fact was (as Mr. King advised Lord Byng) that no party could carry on in Parliament. Nor could any combination of parties do so. It is exactly the reverse here. The Liberals and Conservatives can work together just as they are doing in Alberta and Manitoba—and as they are getting ready to do in Ontario, if grapevine is true.

C.C.F. POSITION

The success of the C.C.F. will not surprise you or anyone else familiar with the history of the last 12 years and with the realities of today. Their gains in this election were only surprising to those who forgot what happened last year in the federal contest. Then all the professional politicians expected the C.C.F. to make gains in and near Vancouver. Actually they lost. Up till then they had pursued out here a contradictory policy of more or less pinpricking opposition to the war. The electors didn't like it, and the results showed that especially as the C.C.F. made real gains in Saskatchewan, where they supported the war but criticized the war effort constructively.

This time under Coldwell and Winch they fought with common sense. There was no crazy stuff. Their war policy made sense. Their significant gains were made, not so much in the all-working-class districts such as Vancouver but in the outlying districts.

The most interesting feature of the election to me was what happened in those constituencies where there was a straight two-party fight. That is, Liberal vs. C.C.F. This clearly shows that when one of the old-line parties goes out of business the former traditional supporters of that party do not all swing over to the other. The C.C.F. gains as much or more than the surviving old party.

That is what is the chief headache of the old-line party machines these days. If the Grifts and Tories form a coalition they know perfectly well that it is only a question of time till the C.C.F. will come in with a clear overall majority. But the alternative is a lot less attractive for them. For, if they do not unite, there will be another election in which a clear-cut C.C.F. victory would be a 50-50 bet. I think they will take a chance on the possibility of 1952 rather than on the probability of 1942.

SOCIALISM?

I am personally not excited over what might or might not happen if and when the C.C.F. comes to power here. The fights between the political groups these days seem to me like those between bantam roosters so intent on each other that they do not see or hear the approach of the steam roller which may flatten them all. If this war goes on for three or four years more

RIOM WAR TRIALS TO START JAN. 15

VICHY (AP)—The cabinet decided today to hold the Riom war guilt trials of former leaders of republican France starting next January 15.

The cabinet, accepting a proposal of Minister of Justice Joseph Barthelmy, called the former leaders "those responsible for defeat" and shelved the original indictments charging "responsibility for the passage from peace to war."

Pétain previously had blamed France's defeat on six men, five of whom have been imprisoned in France for more than a year.

They were Edouard Daladier, former premier; Gen. Marie Gustave Gamelin, Leon Blum, former Premier Pierre Jacomet, former

22 Organizations Aided By Chest

When the last group, in the field, the women-house-to-house canvassers, open their drive Monday in the Community Chest's 1941-42 campaign, they look confidently towards public support for the 22 agencies which will benefit from the funds that are raised.

The $69,500 which the chest executive has set for its objective will be distributed in a way to see that those highly necessary social welfare services are maintained in a manner to meet the increasing demands thrown on them through war conditions.

The budget of each of the 22 has been carefully scanned by the chest committee. All economies commensurate with efficiency have been effected and canvassers are in a position to tell subscribers none of the money they give or pledge will be wasted.

The organizations which benefit from the chest include the Children's Aid Society, the Women's Workroom, Boy Scout Association, Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp, Rainbow Sea Cadets, Saanich Welfare Association, Citizens' Recreation Room, Esquimalt Friendly Help Association, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Family Welfare Association, John Howard Society, Sunshine Inn, Social Service Index, St. Vincent de Paul Society, St. John Ambulance Association, Oak Bay Friendly Help Association, Young Women's Christian Association, Columbia Coast Mission, St. Vincent de Paul Auxiliary, Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital, Young Men's Christian Association and the Victorian Order of Nurses.

administrator of National Defence Industries; Guy La Chamberie, former Air Minister, and Pierre Cot, former Air Minister. Cot is now in the United States. Pétain made no mention at the time of a trial for Paul Reynaud, the last premier, and Georges Mandel, his Minister of the Interior. He said, however, there were "grave presumptions" against them.

Higher Deposit Hits Sale of Used Cars

Used car dealers and salesmen in Victoria are generally agreed that federal credit regulations and gasoline restrictions are together striking a blow at the used car business. However, there is a difference of opinion about the degree to which business is affected.

"There are many who can't pay 50 per cent down and pay the rest in 12 or 18 months. We have sold all our cheap cars, the ones that could be more easily sold on that basis, and are now doing nothing because we can't get rid of the expensive ones," said one salesman.

A salesman for another company said, "conditions today remind me of the depression years, '29, '30, '31 and '32."

A salesman of another company looked at conditions in a different light.

"Admittedly sales are badly down, but I think they may pick up within six or eight months. Many working men, a good part of our used car customers, are in good jobs now supplied by war industry. They have jalopies on which there is only small trade in value, and will now have to wait longer to get the 50 per cent down payment for a newer car. This should take about six or eight months. There are good chances we will be selling at a good clip again next summer, especially since the production of new cars has been curtailed.

Another said, "as far as credit restrictions are concerned, they hold much of the responsibility for the decline in sales, but I think the gas curtailment has done just as much."

However, some of the dealers were not as downhearted, although they admitted credit and gas curtailment did hurt their car sales and all related business, such as accessories and repairs.

"Those people who say there will be a used car shortage shortly are talking through their hats," said one car dealer. "Why, I'm buying more cars than I'm selling at present. Many people don't want autos with the gas situation so unstable."

Another dealer said that the higher priced used cars in his stock weren't selling well because people found it hard to meet the terms demanded by the government on these comparatively high priced autos. The older and lower cost vehicles were selling well, however.

Another dealer stated: "The curtailment of credit will tend to stabilize sales, although the volume will be off. Nevertheless I think the automobile future for the rest of the war will be rather sad."

Another dealer reported having no cars in stock of the price range of $200 to $600.

"It seems most of our customers want cars in this price field," he said, "and we just can't get them."

SCHOOL INSTRUCTOR

DUNCAN—Capt. H. C. Flood of Clayton, B.C., was given a temporary appointment as physical education instructor at the Duncan High School, in place of M. G. Baker, who has been granted leave of absence to join the air force. Capt. Flood received his training at Aberdeen, Scotland. For five years before the first Great War, he was in charge of physical training at Calgary. He served overseas, was wounded and then was physical instructor at the Officers' Training College. On his return to Canada, he was reappointed at Calgary, serving there for 12 years.

Oak Bay Creates Parks Committee

At a special session of the Oak Bay Council Thursday a parks committee was created. Reeve W. L. Woodhouse appointed Councillor P. A. Gibbs, chairman, and Councillors J. V. Johnson and W. M. Walker, members.

At the regular session the council passed the final reading of by-law No. 1127, which provides for a revision of the water rates.

Municipal Clerk Robert F. Blandy reports there are only slight changes.

A letter by Oak Bay requesting the city of Victoria water accounts of $84.78 for the Exhibition Grounds and $108.50 for the Old Men's Home for the two previous months "be paid forthwith independently of any other matters between Victoria and Oak Bay" was referred to the finance committee. "It is Oak Bay's practice to pay its miscellaneous accounts due to Victoria by cheque monthly," the letter said.

The council endorsed the resolution of the Port Alberni city council that the Cathedral Grove timber stands be preserved for park purposes.

A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer, brought to the attention of the council the work of the A.R.P. units. He said all water connections have been located on a map and that while the actual expense of the civilian protection work is only $35, other expenses of "$200" will appear on the books of some municipal departments.

The council ordered the sale of their rock-crusher to the Producers Sand & Gravel Ltd. for $1,200.

The council authorized a second $500 grant to the Jubilee Hospital.

U.S. Could Bring Peace, Say Japs

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan Times and Advertiser today argued the United States, "by a display of strength through tolerance and concession," could start a "snowball of peace" rolling, with Japan as a prime mover.

The paper, controlled by the Foreign Office, reiterated its recent theme that Japan, in conjunction with the United States, was the only power in a position to bring about world peace. Without actually using the word mediation, the paper said Germany could not make peace because "the chancellor is in the midst of the greatest battle in history," that Britain could not because of her commitments under the Atlantic Declaration and to exiled governments, and that the United States, Soviet Russia and Chungking likewise were unable to make any first move because any overtures would be interpreted as indicating weakness.

Weddings

DAWSON—SAUNDERS

With the church prettily decorated in a pink and blue motif, Isobel Pearl, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Saunders, Princeton, B.C., became the bride Sunday evening at St. Paul's United Church, Princeton, of Mr. Charles John Dawson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dawson, Victoria. Rev. J. C. Goodfellow officiated.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a long white georgette gown with lace jacket and matching accessories. Her veil, which was an heirloom of the groom's family, trailed to the ground and was attached to her head by a coronet of white carnations and ruby roses and her bouquet was in matching blooms, centred by a corsage of gardenias. Miss Ruth Saunders was her sister's only attendant, wearing an Elizabeth blue net gown and matching accessories, and a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

With batons and lighted candles a group of C.G.I.T. girls, of whom the bride had been leader, formed a guard of honor for the couple as they left the church. Mr. Lloyd K. Saunders, the bride's brother, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Reynold S. Scott of Princeton, and Mr. Donald W. Saunders of Hedley, B.C. During the service Mrs. W. McBryde presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. C. T. Thomson, who sang "At Dawning."

The parish hall was attractively decorated with sky blue, white and pink flowers for the reception which followed, the bride's mother receiving her guests in a long blue crepe gown with matching accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Mr. A. Gould proposed the toast to the bride, after which supper was served. Pouring tea were Mrs. D. W. Saunders of Hedley and Mrs. Roy F. Thompson of Princeton. Serving were the Misses Irene Willgress, Princeton; Helen Jacobson, Hedley; Mildred Goastrey, Vancouver.

For her honeymoon trip to Vancouver Island and the Okanagan the bride changed to a navy blue suit with accessories of faun and brown and a fur cape. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Dawson will make their home at 1160 Pandora Avenue, Victoria.

BISHOP—HOWLEY

Commander and Mrs. R. A. Howley of "Drumquahar," Nelson Road, Bognor Regis, England, announce the engagement of their daughter, Emerald Dorothea, to Pilot-Officer Ian Prior Bishop, R.A.F., of Victoria.

Metropolitan W.A. to Hold Fall Fair

The fall fair of Metropolitan United W.A. will be held in the school room Wednesday, November 5. It will be opened at 2 by Mrs. R. W. Mayhew. There will be stalls selling home cooking, plain and fancy sewing, garden supplies, etc., each under one of the various groups. Tea will be served during the afternoon and a cafeteria supper at 6. Instead of a formal program there will be novelty entertainments.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Harold Robertson, St. Charles Street, returned today after visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fordyce of Sheridan, Wyoming. She also visited friends for a few days in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Parizeau, 935 Richmond Avenue, attended the 15th autumn congregation of the University of British Columbia in Vancouver Wednesday and saw their son, Paul, receive his bachelor of arts diploma with added distinction of first class honors in zoology, biology and botany. After the ceremony they, with other visiting parents, were entertained in Brock Memorial Hall for tea.

Thursday evening at her home on Beach Drive, Mrs. W. Ellis entertained members of the O.M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E. Members dined in their talent money and it was announced that the quilt being sold in aid of chapter funds had been won by Miss M. Musgrove, 1955 Forrester Avenue. Games were enjoyed, followed by refreshments. Next knitting meeting will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, 3721 Quadra Street, at 2.

Dressed in a robe over 50 years old and which was worn by the mother at her own christening, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miles was christened Sunday afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral, receiving the names Diane Hylda. Dean Spencer Elliott officiated in the presence of the infant's parents and grandparents Paymaster-Lieut. J. G. B. Horne, R.C.N.V.R., and Mrs. Horne and Mr. and Mrs. William Miles Sr., and close friends of are family. Miss Doris Horne and Mrs. J. Finkins were godmothers and the godfather was Mr. Robert Gaetz. Following the ceremony a tea was held at the home of the parents, 2829 Richmond Road. The table, which was covered with a lace cloth, was decorated with a bowl of white chrysanthemums and white tapers in silver holders, and in the place of honor was the top tier of the parents' wedding cake, which had been preserved for the occasion. Mrs. Miles Sr. assisted the hostess in pouring.

These Menus High In Food Value

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDON

These special menus are very low in cost although well balanced and interesting: (1) Pan-broiled chopped beef, mashed potatoes, buttered beets, bread and butter, tapioca cream. (2) Veal fricassee with onions, boiled potatoes, cole slaw, bread and butter, chocolate loaf cake. (3) Steamed fish fillets, fried potatoes, chopped spinach, bread and butter, steamed rice pudding.

Braised short ribs are always successful in the low cost menu. Braised Short Ribs of Beef With Vegetables (Serves 4 to 6) Two to 3 pounds short ribs of beef, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 12 small onions, 4 potatoes, 4 carrots, 1/2 cup water. Wipe beef with damp cloth. Brown on all sides in a heavy pot. Cover and cook over a very low flame 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Add salt, pepper, vegetables and water. Continue slow cooking for about 45 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Gravy may be thickened if desired.

Dried Beef Shortcake (Serves 4 to 6) Four tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk or 1 cup evaporated milk and 1 cup water, 1/4 pound dried beef, shredded, salt, if needed, and pepper, baking powder biscuit dough. Roll and cut dough into large biscuits, place on a cookie sheet and bake 12 to 15 minutes in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.). Melt butter, add flour, and stir until mixture bubbles. Add milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly until the sauce thickens. Add the dried beef, mix, and serve.

Miss Mary Goldie and Mrs. J. H. Maule were joint hostesses recently at a farewell party in honor of Miss Thelma Thompson who left on Friday for Winnipeg. ## Weddings

AXHORN-SHARPE

Mauve and white chrysanthemums formed an attractive setting when Rev. George Biddle officiated at the wedding Wednesday evening at St. John's Church of Hilda Dorothy, elder daughter of Mrs. W. H. Sharpe, 1346 Lang Street, and the late Mr. Sharp, and Sgt. Observer Cyril P. Axhorn, R.C.A.F., only son of Mr. Charles Axhorn, 1427 Pembroke Street, and the late Mrs. Axhorn. Guest pews were marked by pink chrysanthemums tied with white ribbon and on the altar were white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Walter Sharpe, the bride looked lovely in a bouffant gown of white net and lace over taffeta, the lace bodice having a sweetheart neckline and elbow-length sleeves. She wore net mittens and her veil of illusion net was arranged on a coronet edged with orange blossom and her shower bouquet was composed of pink roses, white carnations and heather. Her sister, Miss Audrey Sharpe, was bridesmaid, wearing a floor-length frock of orchid sheer, with bands of soft shirring at the neckline and a full skirt. She carried a sheaf of Buckingham chrysanthemums and pink roses and her hat was trimmed with orchid velvet and a cluster of turquoise blue flowers. A shoulder-length veil was of orchid shade. Mr. Harold Turner was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Gerald Sharpe, brother of the bride, and Mr. Earl Pollock. Mr. Ian Galliford presided at the organ.

A reception for about 50 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sharpe, 2703 Mount Stephen Avenue, where the bride and groom received between tall baskets of mauve and white chrysanthemums, while flowers in pastel shades were used in decoration of the rooms. Mrs. Sharpe Sr. wore a blue crepe gown with a black astrakhan-trimmed coat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and violets. Mrs. Axhorn was in a Lana green afternoon frock, ornamented with the new nailhead trimming. She also wore a corsage bouquet of violets and pink roses. Mrs. Gerald Sharpe's frock was of pale pink sheer and her bouquet of roses and violets.

The refreshment table was lighted by white tapers in silver holders and decorated with vases of white pompon dahlias. Before cutting the wedding cake the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. P. Howell, an old friend.

For the wedding trip to the mainland, the bride left in a beige, mink-trimmed coat over her tailored dress, a mink-trimmed muff, brown hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of yellow roses and violets. The bride and groom will return to Victoria for a short time before leaving for Halifax.

Among the gifts received was a handsome case of flat silverware from the provincial lands department, where the bride and groom were formerly employed.

LOVELL-MORRISON

Making a lovely picture in a flowing gown of minuet blue chiffon, Elizabeth, second daughter of Mrs. Helen Morrison, 2424 Drye Street, and the late Mr. Robert Morrison, became the bride Thursday evening at 8.30 at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Sub-Lieut. William Ashton Lovell, R.C.N.V.R., only son of Mrs. Muriel Lovell, 2571 Dalhousie Street, and the late Mr. C. W. Lovell. Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated. The church was decorated with autumn-toned chrysanthemums.

Mr. Robert Morrison gave his sister away in marriage. The bride's pleated skirt was shirred at the waist, and the bodice which was caught at the throat with a small brilliant clasp, had long full sleeves. From her Juliet cap of blue forget-me-nots her veil of minuet blue and pink illusion net fell to her waist, and she carried a lover's knot bouquet of carnations and delphiniums.

Mrs. J. C. Powell was her sister's matron of honor, wearing a long-sleeved frock of Soiree rose chiffon, with billowing skirt and matching turban and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Sub-Lieut. A. K. Stephens, R.C.N.V.R., was best man, and acting as ushers were Lieut. J. B. Bracken and Sub-Lieut. J. M. Pretty, both of the R.C.N.V.R. Eight fellow officers of the bridegroom with crossed swords formed a guard of honor as the couple left the church.

During a reception for about 100 guests at the home of the bride's mother, the bride and groom stood in a bower of chrysanthemums and roses in the window recess, and were assisted in welcoming the guests by Mrs. Morrison in a black crepe ensemble with a corsage of violets and by Mrs. Lovell in a costume of vintage red, her corsage being of violets and Talisman roses. A three-tiered cake, flanked by tall white tapers, centred the lace-covered supper table, and was cut by the bride with her husband's sword, after Rev. McLean had proposed the toast.

Following the honeymoon on the mainland, for which the bride left in a navy-blue suit and hat with a corsage bouquet of Malmalson carnations, Sub-Lieut. and Mrs. Lovell will make their home at 1933 Crescent Road, Victoria.

Among the gifts received was a canteen of flat silver from fellow members of the bride at the Provincial Department of Education, a silver flower bowl from the Public Works Accounting Department, where the groom was formerly employed, and a silver tray from his fellow officers of the training office of H.M.C.S. Naden.

BERLIN (AP)—Thirteen Greeks were executed by hanging at Salonika following the slaying of two German soldiers, authorized Germans said today. They said they had not yet received any details about the case.

No Joy in Reich

War on 2 Fronts Worrying Germans

By GLADYS ARNOLD

NEW YORK (CP)—War on two fronts has the people of Germany worried. This is the information brought back from Berlin by Virginia Lane, one of 12 members of the U.S. embassy staff there who arrived back in America this week.

"But," she cautioned, "one must not be deceived about German morale."

From her observations Miss Lane said she did not think there was any danger of the Germans "cracking up from within, but they were thoroughly convinced their only hope was in a German victory, and even those who don't like Hitler know the hopelessness of revolt."

POLICE EVERYWHERE

"The country is far too thoroughly organized and policed for revolt to succeed," she said. "German morale is low, but it has always been low since I went there in 1938. It simply fluctuates on different low levels and the people have become accustomed to it."

"There's not much joy or enthusiasm left in Germany," When Miss Lane went to Berlin food supplies already were restricted. But food conditions for the German masses were much worse now.

"I spent most of my salary supplementing my ration with food we Americans brought in from Hungary and other places," she explained. "But there again, the Germans have become accustomed to their present-day diet."

"To the average German the rapid fall of France was a surprise, and the declaration of war against Russia was an unexpected and bitter blow. The war on two fronts has the populace worried."

PRISONERS WORK

War prisoners, Polish, Czech and French, were to be seen at work all over Germany in fields and factories. Notices were posted that severe measures would be taken if people talked with them or attempted to be friendly.

Some British and Canadian prisoners were at liberty in Berlin proper, she said, but they must report regularly to the police. Among them were some of the Canadians from the Zamzam, an Egyptian vessel torpedoed with a number of French-Canadian members of the priest-hood aboard.

WAGE FREEZING OPPOSED

At the last regular meeting of Victoria Local Union 1163, Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, it was decided that we ask for space in your paper to make clear our position on the recent order-in-council re the freezing of wages.

The membership of Local 1163 does not regard this order as a democratic measure and believes that it has not been taken as a model from any democratic institution or country.

We believe that instead of inaugurating $45,000,000 worth of repressive measures "against labor" the money can be used to a better purpose in destroying Hitlerism. The need for a constructive national labor policy with greater regard for organized labor is the antithesis that is needed to stimulate the spirit for victory. A policy that would place organized labor in a position definitely to prove its worth in continuing and extending (on all fronts) the fight against Nazism. This, we believe, is what labor expects from Ottawa.

Apart from the main objectionable features, there are other provisions in the order that discriminate against and divide the ranks of labor, such as the provision inferring that employers with less than 10 employees do not have to pay the cost of living bonus. It attempts to take away the right of collective bargaining and assists open-shop employers in their refusal to recognize bona fide trade unions.

Labor is fair. It wants to shoulder its entire share of a just war campaign against Hitler. But it does not desire to be hampered in doing so by trying to carry along unnecessary excess weight.

It has been instructed to embody the above in a resolution to be forwarded to the Rt. Hon. Mr. McLarty, Minister of Labor, and to the Victoria Trades and Labor Council.

C. H. PALMER,
Recording Secretary.

Urge Cathedral Grove As Park Reserve

LADYSMITH—The city council endorsed a resolution from Port Alberni that the provincial government have Cathedral Grove, the internationally famous stand of big timber near Cameron Lake, reserved for park purposes.

A suggestion from the Provincial Police in Ladysmith that the War Memorial on First Avenue be moved, as it constituted a menace to traffic, was referred to the property committee to study and report back to the council.

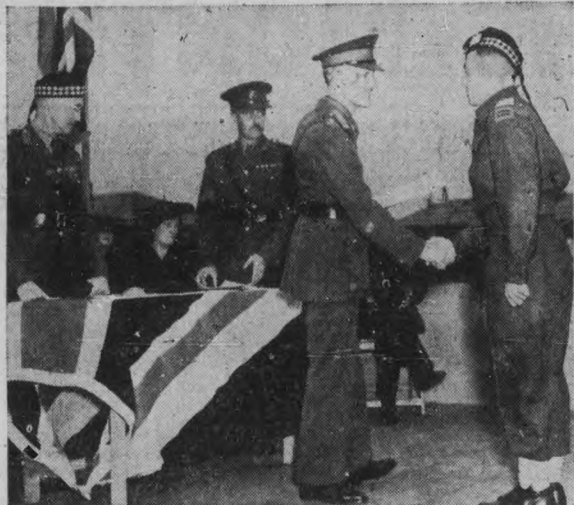

Alderman Joyce submitted a report on the work accomplished by the board of works during the year. About 3.3 miles of streets had been surfaced to an average width of 20 feet in the use of 9,686 gallons of asphalt. He produced a plan of the streets showing the various stages of development towards permanent surfacing. For next year, he suggested the board of works would require approximately the same gallonage for the same projected mileage.

SCATTERED THROUGHOUT GREAT BRITAIN are scores of Y.W.C.A. centres where uniformed women find respite from their strenuous war duties. Here is a happy scene at one of the "Y.W." centres where W.A.A.F.'s enjoy checkers, reading and good fellowship between war jobs. The Canadian Y.W.C.A. in addition to operating Hostess Houses, is striving to raise $50,000 to aid the British "Y.W." in its war work.

125 'Guppies' Become Officers at Gordon Head Ceremony

2nd-Lieut. Roy Murdock receives his certificate from Maj.-Gen. Alexander. Col. A. D. Wilson, camp commandant, stands in the background at extreme left, and Capt. R. E. MacBean, the general's aide.

2nd-Lieut. Jack Fawcett with his mother, Mrs. Violet E. Fawcett, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Fawcett.

Tea was served in the camp library to graduates, relatives and friends.

"Thank you, sir."

Saluting Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, the former cadet marched from the dais erected on the parade ground at Gordon Head Training Centre. In his left hand he clutched his certificate. His step was light. He was an officer in the Canadian Army now.

One hundred and twenty-five officers from all parts of Canada in like manner completed a 10-week officer's training course Wednesday afternoon. Most of them became second lieutenants, a few lieutenants. They will continue training at eastern centres. Each having received his certificate, Maj.-Gen. Alexander, G.O.C.-in-Chief, Pacific Command, addressed them.

"This is a stage," he said. "A dedication of yourselves to your King and country in a cause of all people who value personal freedom against a people who see man only as a beast."

He told them of the responsibilities—"greater, perhaps, than at any other time"—they, as leaders, must face. He spoke of the importance of experience. He emphasized the value of comradeships they had formed during training. He wished them the best of luck in their coming careers.

In platoons, while the band played "Should Old Acquaintance Be Forgotten," the graduating officers marched past the platform in slow time, saluting Maj.-Gen. Alexander.

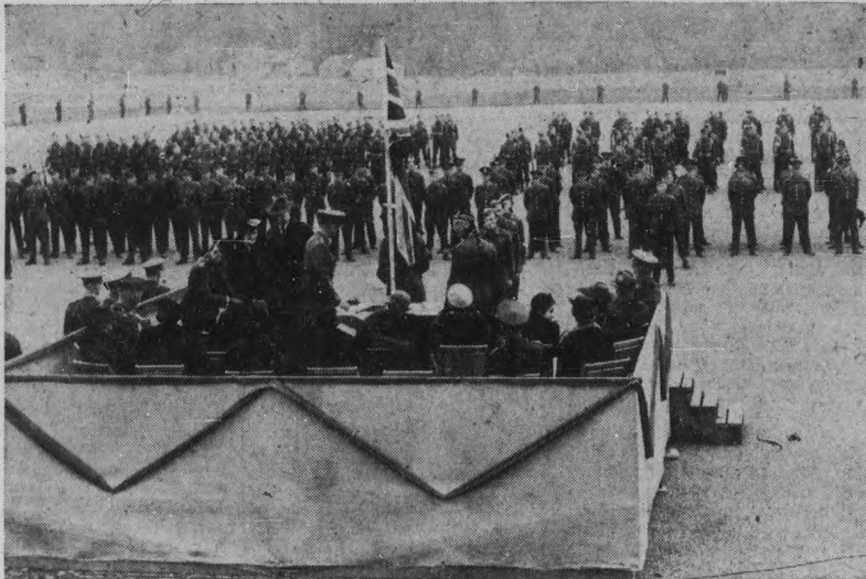

The class-in-training, which had stood at ease in the background while the graduating ceremony was in progress, now offered three cheers to the graduates, and three cheers for Col. A. D. Wilson, D.S.O., commandant of the training centre.

Slowly, in great seriousness, but while the spectators laughed, the graduates bid farewell to the cadets by singing: "Good-bye, guppy. We're going to leave you now." An original medley, sung to a old tune, the act was unprecedented in the history of Gordon Head cadet graduating ceremonies.

Guppy is army slang for a cadet in training. The ceremony was not without its tragic side. One new officer fainted and had to be carried from the parade ground.

The graduating exercises complete, the new officers mingled with the crowd of friends and relatives which had witnessed the ceremony. Afternoon tea was served at the camp library in honor of the graduating class.

"It's a grand feeling not to be a guppy," remarked one second lieutenant, as the new officers mingled with the visitors and received congratulations.

General scene of graduation. Cadets anxiously await their turn to march to the dais and receive their certificate from General Alexander.

Cheers are given for Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, G.O.C.-in-Chief, Pacific Command.

Graduates sing "Good-bye Guppy." (cadet).

"You all looked so very smart," replied his girl.

They retired to a corner of the library to have a cup of tea. With 10 weeks' training behind him, embarking on a new career, soon to leave Victoria for the east, yes, he had plenty to talk about. And now he was a different man. He's a second lieutenant in His Majesty's Canadian Army.

An informal dinner was given in honor of the graduates at the Empress Hotel in the evening. Addressing the officers again, Major-General Alexander stressed the importance of comradeships formed during life in the barracks.

2 Fliers Safe

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Two army air corps pilots, Lieuts. L. C. Lydon and J. C. West, both of Des Moines, Ia., missing for a week in a rugged region of King's Canyon National Park, were contacted today by a ground party which reported the men were uninjured.

The pilots either had parachuted from their fast pursuit planes, which a storm scattered a formation of 19 ships, or had managed to bring the craft down in a forced landing.

A third flier, Richard N. Long of Connellsville, Pa., still was missing.

Cafe de Paris Wines Buy Spitfires

LONDON (CP)—Out of the ashes of the Cafe de Paris, where 84 persons, including some Canadians, were killed by a bomb last March, have come five new Spitfire planes for use against the Germans. They were paid for by a contribution to the Spitfire fund of £25,000 (about $100,000) derived from the sale of wines which escaped damage in the cellar of the night spot.

B.C. Facing Gas Shortage

WINNIPEG (CP)—Possibility of "full gasoline rationing" for the Dominion is indicated by G. R. Cottrell, federal oil controller.

"... At any time we may break away and try full rationing," he said here. "Our first duty is to the war effort."

Present curtailment of gasoline supplies to motorists he described as "modified rationing," but he did not say what plan might be used for "full rationing."

"The present curtailment is not nearly enough," said Mr. Cottrell. "We've changed the ratio three times, and we'll keep trying in an endeavor to find a sound basis. We'll give it a fair trial."

"But at any time we may break away and try full rationing... My first duty as oil controller is to see that the navy, army and air force are amply supplied, and that all war industries have sufficient supplies to carry on unhampered."

Mr. Cottrell said the oil situation in British Columbia is such that "oil supplies are being brought in in tankers in the bottoms of freight ships." If the one small tanker and barge available were to be taken away, "B.C. would run out of oil in a month, of gasoline in six weeks," he said.

C. B. Blethen, Seattle Times Chief, Dead

SEATTLE (AP) — Maj. Gen. Clarence Bretton Blethen, publisher of the Seattle Times, died Thursday night at his home after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Blethen and two of their four sons, Frank and William K. Blethen, both associated with the Times, were at his bedside when the end came at 10.30 in the family home on the east shore of Lake Washington.

Gen. Blethen was one of the Pacific Northwest's most distinguished newspaper and military figures. He had headed the extensive Times properties since 1915, and remained the active head of the publication until his final illness kept him from his office.

His active connection with the Times covered more than four decades. His career in the Washington National Guard covered almost the same period, although he retired from active service as a brigadier-general in 1926. He was elevated to the rank of major-general, retired, last November.

BORN IN MAINE

He was born in Portland, Maine, February 1, 1879, and was educated in the schools of Minneapolis, Minn., and the Universities of Washington and Chicago.

He became news editor of the Times under his father, Col. Alden J. Blethen, in 1900, and managing editor in 1905.

In 1910 when the late Joseph Blethen, a brother, retired from the presidency of the Times Printing Company, Clarence assumed direction of the entire Times properties.

During the first Great War he was a colonel of heavy coast artillery, having been mustered into federal service July 25, 1917, with his regiment of Washington National Guard Artillery.

He held various war department and executive posts, one of his assignments having been that of assistant to the chief of heavy artillery at Washington, D.C. At the conclusion of the war he was in command of the 15th Artillery, C.A.C., under orders to proceed overseas.

General (more widely known, however, as "Colonel") Blethen was known widely as a writer, an amateur photographer and the inventor of various processes for the reproduction of photographs in newspapers, some of which he patented. Among his inventions was the three-color, high-speed process of illustration used in the Times.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—A disturbance is approaching Vancouver Island from west. Moderate to occasionally heavy rain have occurred on the south half of the coast and showers of intermittent rain have been general on the north coast and in the Cariboo. Elsewhere the weather has been mostly cloudy. It is fair and mild in Alberta and western Saskatchewan, but partly cloudy and cool elsewhere on the prairies.

DID YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE TODAY?

Do you really know why constipation is so harmful? You probably know that constipation sets up poisons in the large intestine or colon. But do you know that these poisons seep through the walls of the colon and infect the bloodstream? They set up toxic accumulations in kidneys and liver and are contributing causes of rheumatic pains, sciatica and backache.

Most laxatives only act in the colon. Kruschen does more. It is the laxative with a double action. Besides ridding the colon of stagnating waste matter, Kruschen's mineral salts have a diuretic action. They flush the kidneys, help to clear the bloodstream of all poisonous matter, and so protect your whole system from that form of infection.

You can get Kruschen from all drug stores. Prices 75c, and 25c.

Troops on Guard In Bendix, N.J.

BENDIX, N.J. (AP) — The United States Army is in charge of the plant of Air Associates Inc. today with 2,100 soldiers on guard after President Roosevelt said a labor dispute threatened to halt production.

The troops were ordered to the plant by War Secretary Stimson under instruction of the President, who issued an executive order Thursday night directing the army to take over. Air Associates has $5,000,000 in defence orders for aviation equipment.

A clash between returning C.I.O. strikers and nonunion workers precipitated the President's action, the third time the federal government has taken over production stopped or threatened by labor disputes.

Col. Ralph W. Wilson of Fort Hancock said 2,100 troops were on the scene.

Steel-hatted and carrying bayonets, they are guarding all entrances to the plant, with machine guns set up on all sides.

NO WORK TODAY

Lieut. John Austin, acting public relations officer, announced there would be no work today, but that it would be resumed as soon as details could be settled. Civilian employees were barred meanwhile.

A Bergen County policeman emerged from the building with his arms full of rifles and shotguns. He piled them in a police car and drove off.

The first contingent of soldiers from Fort Jay, Governor's Island, N.Y., arrived at 3.35 a.m. E.S.T. Three other contingents followed from Fort Wadsworth and Hamilton, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Fort Hancock.

Brig. Gen. Forrest E. Williford, commander of the 2nd Coast Artillery District, is in command of the troops. He held a conference with Col. Roy M. Jones, eastern district supervisor for the air corps procurement division, who took charge of the plant.

LANGFORD

The monthly meeting of St. Matthew's Guild will be held November 5 at the home of Mrs. G. R. King, Island Highway. An installation service for officers of the Anglican Young People's Association will be held in St. Matthew's Church on Saturday at 7.

Lindbergh Speaks Again

'Hitler's Days Numbered', He's Sick Man, Says Cudahy

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles A. Lindbergh charged Thursday night that President Roosevelt and his administration had never taken the American people into their confidence and claimed the United States had been led by subterfuge "along the road to war."

In an address at a Madison Square Garden rally of the America First committee, he added:

"I appeal to all Americans, no matter what their viewpoint on the war may be, to unite behind the demand for a leadership in Washington that stands squarely upon American traditions—a leadership of integrity instead of subterfuge, of openness instead of secrecy; a leadership that demonstrates its Americanism by taking the American people into its confidence."

After tracing the developments of the last year, Lindbergh said: "We are on the verge of a war that would require us to attack the strongest military power the world has ever known—a war that would probably force us to fight in both the Atlantic and the Pacific, in both Europe and Asia, at the same time. To be successful we would have to transport mechanized armies of millions of men across the ocean and land them on hostile coasts defended by the best and most hardened armies of the eastern hemisphere."

"If we should be successful in such an enterprise, it would involve the death and maiming of millions of American soldiers. But before we could carry on war on such a scale, we would have to turn this country into a military nation that would surpass Germany herself in totalitarian efficiency. We would have to train and equip an army of not less than 10,000,000 men, and we would have to build a navy and merchant marine that could transport such an army across the ocean."

On the verge of war, he said, "Hitler would not dare oppose such an offer of mediation at this time, following the terrible casualties of the Russian campaign," Cudahy said. "The German people had no stomach for this war at the beginning. Yet, up to the present time they are given no hope of a peace which will not be more drastic in its penalties than the last one was."

"They say there can be no peace with Hitler. But Hitler is only a passing phase and he would rapidly pass into eclipse if he dared to oppose the will of his generals and the German people to enter into peace negotiations."

PEACE CALL?

John Cudahy, former United States ambassador to Belgium, said the country's only hope of avoiding involvement in the war is for the President to call a peace conference.

"Hitler is not immortal. When I saw him five months ago he looked like a sick man and I would not be surprised if his days were numbered."

Cudahy, in a private capacity, obtained a press interview with Hitler five months ago. In testimony before the Senate foreign relations committee in Washington, published last Monday, Cudahy told the committee that it appeared to him that Hitler was suffering from a "malignant disease."

Cudahy also suggested that Herbert Hoover be put to work

2 Canadians Win High Honors

LONDON (CP) — Squadron Leaders Andrew William Fletcher, 26, of Lethbridge, Alta., and Robert Alexander Barton, of Kamloops, B.C., two Canadian aces in the R.A.F. Mediterranean service, have been awarded bars to their Distinguished Flying Crosses.

Fletcher commanded No. 272 Squadron while posted at Malta. He specialized in the navigation of reconnaissance craft and flying boats. His citation said:

"From July 21 to August 3, 1941, this officer commanded a detachment of Beaufighters operating in the safe passage of convoys sailing between Gibraltar and Malta. Attacks were made on certain airdromes and sea-plane bases which resulted in the loss to the enemy of 49 aircraft destroyed and a further 42 damaged.

"The successes achieved undoubtedly crippled the enemy's air activities so seriously that he was unable to carry out effective reconnaissance and to launch a strong striking force against convoys. Throughout, Sqdn. Ldr. Fletcher displayed courageous leadership and determination, and set an example which proved an inspiration to all."

Barton's citation: "This officer destroyed seven hostile aircraft during his period of service in the United Kingdom. Since his arrival at Malta he has led his squadron on all interceptions and fighter patrols during which he has destroyed four hostile aircraft, including one at night."

"Sqdn. Ldr. Barton has throughout shown a high standard of courage, leadership and initiative and has contributed materially to the results obtained by the fighter effort on the island."

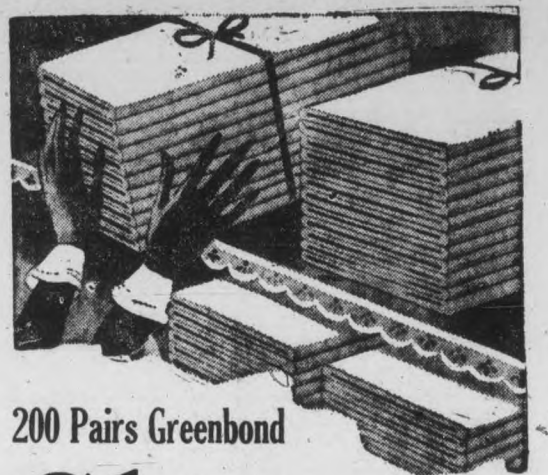

A note accompanying the official announcement of his award said Barton's "outstanding leadership has contributed materially to the many successes obtained by his squadron," and added that "his skill was particularly displayed on one occasion when his squadron destroyed 20 enemy aircraft."

By PETE SALLAWAY

MANY INTERESTING items have been penned about the horse-racing game. Articles about bargain-price nags turning into world beaters like Alsab and all the color and highlights around a racetrack come a dime a dozen. One of the best human interest angles has been caught by Harry Grayson in the following story about Chiquita Mia owned by Charles S. (Lucky) Howard on whose farm Seabiscuit stands at stud.

"You couldn't call Chiquita Mia a gift horse, for even though she wasn't wanted, she set Seabiscuit's owner back $800.

"But looking in the little filly's mouth, Lucky Charley Howard and his trainer, Silent Tom Smith, see a silver spoon of good records as a two-year-old, and promise of a lot more winnings.

"And they thank a little girl named Mymy.

"Seeking stock to augment the famous Howard stable and farm, the latter near Willits, Calif., Charles S. Howard, and Tom Smith studied the catalogue for last year's Saratoga yearling sales.

"Each checked a few babies, the breeding of which looked good to the checker.

"When the youngster reached California, there was one too many.

"She was a bay filly, unnamed, by Hadagal and out of Home Star. Howard asked Smith if it was on account of the fast Hadagal that the trainer picked the filly.

"Smith's reply was that he thought the Boss picked her.

"Inspecting the list, they found the filly was checked off—but by whom?

"Howard told his family about the orphan and the mysterious check. Then Mymy, his granddaughter, confessed. She checked the filly in the book, not knowing the exact purpose of the check. The little filly appealed to her somehow.

"So the filly became Chiquita Mia, a term of endearment in Spanish on the idea of 'My little darling.'

"Chiquita Mia really is the little darling of California racegoers.

"Howard didn't do so well with Porter's Cap and Moland on his last eastern swing. There was a little dark chestnut named Whirlaway, you know.

"But the case of Chiquita Mia is some indication that Howard has not yet run entirely out of luck.

"Chiquita Mia won six of eight races. Early in September, she carried 119 pounds in capturing a $2,500 stake at Del Mar.

"A week later, loaded with 126 pounds, a terrific impost for a juvenile filly, she beat the track's best of her age by two-and-a-half lengths in the $2,500 El Cabrillo Handicap, galloping the six furlongs in 1.11 2/5.

"Chiquita Mia first went to the races at Santa Anita last winter, and showed real promise. She took one division of the Santa Barbara Stakes. She took the Aberdeen at Havre de Grace, and she's pegged as one to watch at Santa Anita after the turn of the year."

Swim Gala Tomorrow

Strong Invading Squad

Victorians will have the chance to witness the cream of the province's aquatic stars perform at the Crystal Garden Saturday night when the stars of four clubs participate in one of the greatest swim galas ever staged in the city.

Victoria will be well represented by the Y.M.C.A. and the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, while the invading team will come from Vancouver and Crescent Clubs.

Vancouver team includes Joan Langdon, Canadian breaststroke champion; Betty Baggeley and the Aetzel trio of Toots, Audrey and Georgina. Shirley Muir and Betty Plantec, both smooth backstroke artists, will also be among the visitors. A letter received by Coach McKinnon today said that Vancouver is sending 38 swimmers over for the event, the largest group that has ever come from the mainland to compete in the Victoria pool.

Local brine slashers will include Bob Montgomery, holder of three provincial titles; Hugh Reston, flashy freestyle star, and Bob Johnstone, who smashed the junior Canadian half-mile mark at the last intercity gala held in Vancouver several months ago.

Others contributing to the manpower of the local swimmers will be Bob Smirl, Jack Lamb, Stan Peden, Jack Todd, Len Coverdale, Len Stark, Jim McKellar, Bob Stevenson, Dick Bowden, Jack Morgan, Peter Salmon, Don Smyth, Ted Tully, Dale Bussey, Bob McDaniel and Teddy Bette.

"Freddie" Pritchard, Joan Morgan and Aileen Smyth will be among the local mermaids. With them will be Olive Muir, Ina Salmon, Thelma Whyte, Hazel Smith, Molly Moundrell, Aileen Stark, Molly White, Audrey Cridge, Macrina Boothe, Myrtle Tupman, Dottie Jasper and Olive French.

The last competition held in the Victoria pool, June 28, saw the Y.M.C.A. walk away with 114 points to Vancouver's mark of 58.

For the last several weeks the locals have been undergoing strenuous workouts in both the "Y" and the Crystal pools and are in the pink of condition.

During the event Ted Rau, Victoria "Y," Terry Conally and Alex Matheson, both of Vancouver, will give an exhibition of fancy diving. The first event will start at 8.

SWIMMERS MEET

The monthly executive meeting of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club will be held this evening at the Crystal Garden at 8.30.

Incompleted Foward Pass

Dean McAdams looks aghast at loose ball passed to him by Rhoten Shetley and batted down by Marshall Goldberg, 98, of Chicago Cardinals. Heading the line coming up is Perry Schwartz, 99, Brooklyn end. Cardinals beat Dodgers 20 to 6 in National Professional League gridiron game.

LaDeur Here to Join Hockey Club

Victoria's entry in the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association was further strengthened Thursday with the arrival in town of Gus LaDeur, crack forward from Regina.

LaDeur played with Fort William intermediates last season. That club battled its way into the intermediate playoffs with Swift Current Indians, being defeated in four games. Swift Current beat Nanaimo in the western Canada final. He previously played in England with the Wembley Lions and Streatham Greyhounds. He is a forward.

Another prospect for the club is young Jack Jones, nephew of George Strath, and former intermediate star with the Listowel, Ont., team. Jones played for three seasons under George Hay, former western Canada professional star. A short chunky lad, he has the appearance of a hockey player and should do good in the workouts.

Grid Wind-up in East Tomorrow

Balmy Beach and Montreal play out their string tomorrow and the games, if nothing else, will provide an opportunity for these two football clubs to redeem themselves after what has been a disastrous season.

Beach meet Argos at Toronto in a game that should draw 12,000 if the weather is good and the Bulldogs take on Ottawa at Montreal. Both games will wind up the regular schedule of the eastern union. Argos and Ottawa have already been declared "in" for playoffs.

In the Ontario Union the east's only unbeaten team, Hamilton Wildcats, are hosts to Toronto Indians—a team that gave the ambitious city club quite a battle in their Thanksgiving Day game at Toronto.

Overlying both eastern union games is one of a more personal nature—that between Annis Stukus of Argos and George Fraser of Ottawa for the union's scoring honors. Fraser pulled out in front last week when he scored nine points to leave his rival trailing by four. The Ottawa player has a total of 19.

However, over in Hamilton Al Lenard of the Wildcats can afford to look on rather condescendingly at the Stukus-Fraser fracas. With 30 points to his credit, Lenard is almost a sure-pop to take the east's scoring crown.

Rumor Department

Bartell Giants Pilot

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball rumor No. 54321 is that Dick Bartell is a clinch to be the New York Giants' manager next season. . . For the season's futility record we offer the gal bowler at Billings, Mont., who rolled 20 frames without getting a single pin. . . Whitinsville, the boss that won the Marlene Dietrich trophy at Pascoag (R.I.) Park for having the most perfect legs, has been offered a screen test.

Pimlico Racing Highlights

Market Wise Victor

BALTIMORE (AP)—A record-shattering performance by an un-sung, Canadian-owned horse, Market Wise's close victory over Hattal in the Pimlico Special and Exterminator's appearance in the role of guest star provided a series of thrills Thursday for 15,000 racing fans.

Filisteo, a seven-year-old bay horse from Argentina, set a world's record for two miles and 70 yards in winning the second running of the $5,000 added Exterminator Handicap and almost stole the show from the match race between Market Wise and Hattal in the fifth running of the special.

Jockey Al Shelhamer guided Filisteo, owned by H. C. Hatch of Toronto, over the grueling route in 3:30 4/5 seconds to clip two full seconds off the former world record of 3:32 4/5 set by Rangover at Detroit in 1935.

Market Wise, $1,000 bargain colt owned by Lou Tufano, Jamaica, N.Y., contractor, came from behind to nip Royce Martin's Hattal by a head in the $10,000 winner-take-all special, which developed into a hammer and tongs affair.

Fritzie Zivic Meets Robinson

NEW YORK (AP)—Just about a year ago Fritzie Zivic came off the leaky roof circuit and did the impossible by punching the great Henry Armstrong to the end of the trail.

The night he did it, a skinny kid from Harlem made his professional debut in one of the four-round preliminaries.

Tonight in Madison Square Garden, the kid, Ray (Sugar) Robinson, a brown beanpole with a belt like a bomb, tops off a year of marching along the victory trail by tangling with Zivic in a 10-rounder that probably will get the winner a shot at Red Cochrane and the world welterweight championship.

And so far has Sugar come along the road to the jackpot that the betting men have installed him favorite at 5 to 8 to knock off one of the craftiest ring generals of this fistie generation.

Promoter Mike Jacobs expects some 15,000 customers for a pot close to $45,000.

Largely because Robinson is rolling merrily along while Zivic has been about as consistent as women's styles, this corner strings along with Ray to grab the brass ring this time.

Robinson takes into this tussle a record of 25 straight victories. He stiffened 20 of his 25 victims

Shot Put, Mrs. Marie Evans' route-running star, went post-ward the favorite in the Exterminator, but was beaten a length and a half by Filisteo, which paid $31.50 for $2 and earned a purse of $4,450. J. C. Vidal's Paul Pry was another two lengths back in third place.

Market Wise ran the mile and three-sixteenths in the creditable time of 1:58 4/5 seconds, the fastest time for the special since Seabiscuit set a track mark of 1:56 2/5 in 1938.

For Tufano, the victory meant not only the $10,000 purse, but also the $2,500 Maryland Jockey Club Gold Cup, while trainer George Washington Carroll was presented with $1,500 and a piece of plate.

rolling merrily along while Zivic has been about as consistent as women's styles, this corner strings along with Ray to grab the brass ring this time.

Cohoe Still Run

Cohoe salmon are still being caught at Cowichan Bay. Although the larger runs have all probably gone through; smaller runs have been coming in and good fishing has been enjoyed by many fishermen during the last 10 days, both in the narrows and Cowichan Bay.

The heavy rains earlier in the month took the main run up the river a little earlier than is sometimes the case, but the subsequent fine weather has found fishing surprisingly good. New fish have been constantly arriving.

Two Fights Give Fans Action as Bays Victors

Alumni-Saanich In Grid Battle

Local Canadian football fans are talking enthusiastically about the improving calibre of play being shown here, and they are eagerly looking forward to the return meeting of the flashy Victoria High School Alumni and the unpredictable Saanich Warriors.

The Warriors bowed down to the ex-students when they first met two weeks ago, but their coach, George Deacon, says his boys will be on top this week-end.

"We will be playing the same style ball that beat the Oak Bay Blue Devils last Saturday," he explains. "The Warriors are now brushing up on their timing and plays."

Deacon also has added five recruits, three of them linemen, and he believes the added weight will do much to bolster his comparatively light line. He is also spending much time on the strong second-string team.

Coach Jimmy Smith has thrown a news censorship around his team and little information has leaked out from his practices this week.

However, it is understood Smith is putting his gridders through a number of smart new routines.

"We'll uncover more than a few surprises for Deacon's boys, Saturday," is all he had to say.

Pro Ball Players Face Grand Jury

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eight professional baseball players were summoned Thursday before a circuit court grand jury investigating the financial affairs of local 42 of the American Federation of Labor Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' Union.

Acting circuit Attorney Henry G. Morris said the grand jury wanted to ascertain the circumstances under which some of the players received work permits from the union and got jobs at the government small arms ammunition plant this fall as laborers at high hourly wages.

Joe Grace, outfielder of St. Louis Browns, first to go before the jury, said he failed to obtain a work permit and did not get a job, Morris reported.

Other players summoned were Johnny Lucadello of the Browns; Johnny Hopp, Enos Slaughter, Ernie White, Morton Cooper and Walker Cooper of St. Louis Cardinals, and Andy Gossop of Kansas City Blues.

Theodore Nischwitz, international representative of the union, said Slaughter and several other players were discharged from jobs at the plant Tuesday.

Small Crowd Sees Final Boxla Clash

It was rough, fast and furious and far, far better than Tuesday night's game. This brief description applies to last night's lacrosse festivities, when James Bay beat Salmon Arm in the second game of the provincial series, 22 to 7, to win Victoria's first B.C. lacrosse championship in over 20 years.

At the end of the game H. L. Delmonico, representative from the provincial executive, presented the Bays with a fine trophy, emblematic of the B.C. championship. Team captain Art McKim received the silverware, last year held by Pitt Meadows.

Only 100 people were on hand to see the interior club, checking harder, breaking faster, give the Bay team a better fight than the score indicated. There was much more cohesion in the Salmon Arm attack than in the first game and the boys from Shuswap rode the locals harder than a pony express rider his favorite Mustang.

Nevertheless, the Bay club was the better team and from the first few minutes there was little doubt of the eventual end.

TWO FIGHTS

The rough play and liberal slashing led to two fights, Norm Baker tangling with Doug Norman in the third period and Bob Wallace stirring air currents in the final session as he unsuccessfully tried to hang a few on the chin of Ken Parks. Norm got 10 minutes and roaring Robert went to the dressing-room.

To get back to the game, Salmon Arm started the evening's work for the scorekeeper, Jack Prescott tallying on a breakaway less than a minute after the starting whistle blew. Bob Wallace and Tom McKeachie reversed matters in short order and after liberal shooting and roughing, the first period ended, 7 to 4. This was Salmon Arm's best. The Bays, a little over-confident, forgot to backcheck at the wrong times and were caught flat on a few breakaways.

Bays stretched the lead to 12 to 5 at halftime, prolific body checking by Don Urquhart and Ken Watt enlivening the session. At the end of the third period it was 16 to 6 and in the last minutes of the final quarter Bays cut loose with a barrage of shots to increase the score to its final 22 to 7.

Dave Gibbons, interior goalie, had his eyes better focussed than in Tuesday's starter. He beat out men on breakaways and got practically all long shots to have a stoppage record of 40. Art McKim saved half that number, outguessing the Salmon Arm boys many times.

Norm Baker led the evening's scoring with 6 goals. Ernie Ball, Ralph Baker and Arnie Ferguson snarled 3 apiece. Mickey McKay, playing coach of Salmon Arm, and Parks led their brigade with 2 apiece.

VANCOUVER WINS MIDGET

The Midget championship of the province went to the under 14's from Vancouver, Renfrew Athletic Club, who beat Bob McInnes' Oakland club 16 to 6 in the preliminary. The Victoria boys put up a good fight but went under because of lack of weight. The locals led 4 to 2 at half-time and were still close at the three-quarter mark, only two goals behind as the score stood 8 to 6. Feeling the pounding, they fell apart in the last quarter as Vancouver rammed home 8 goals.

Both teams are strong and a good match is expected. The return game will be played at Mount Talmie the following Saturday.

RUGBY TOMORROW

The first game in the annual home and-home rugby series between Brentwood College and University School will be held tomorrow at the Brentwood grounds at 2.30.

Both teams are strong and a good match is expected. The return game will be played at Mount Talmie the following Saturday.

Crack Amateurs Play With Rovers

WINNIPEG (CP)—Coach Fred Metcalfe and 12 players of New York Rovers of the Eastern United States Amateur Hockey League rolled across North Dakota while at Winnipeg names of the players, kept a dark secret for months, were released.

Lester Patrick, manager of New York Rovers of the National League, who operates Rovers as a training unit, said the players, all from Manitoba and Saskatchewan, who received their passports to play in the United States are:

Alex Sandelack, both from Regina Rangers, Dominion senior amateur champions; Ted Colvin of Winnipeg, and Walter Kyle, Wilcox, Sask.

Forwards—Bob Kirkpatrick of Regina, with Flin Flon Bombers of the Saskatchewan Senior League last season; Hub Macey, Bill Robinson and Lewis Medynski, all from Winnipeg Rangers, Canadian junior champions; Gilbert Nordin of Winnipeg Monarchs, Arthur Kendall of Portage La Prairie Terriers, and Dave Livingstone of Saskatoon Quakers.

Goal—Jack McGill of Saskatoon Quakers' junior team last season.

Metcalfe, who piloted Regina Rangers to the Allan Cup victory last spring, will have two other forwards—Bill Tilson and Howie Hollinger, both with Rovers last year.

Five Players Given to Amerks

TORONTO (CP)—Four players were loaned to New York Americans by Toronto Thursday as the Maple Leafs' management cleared the decks for the opening action in the National Hockey League warfare that starts here Saturday night. Five other players were sent to clubs in the American League.

Players sent to Red Dutton's club are: Gus Marker, veteran right-winger; Red Heron, who plays either left wing or centre; Peanuts O'Flaherty, chunky right-winger who played for a time with the Americans last season, and Nick Knott, lanky left-winger who was a member of Oshawa junior champions two years ago.

Coach Clarence (Hap) Day of the Leafs said the contracts of the four for this season had been turned over to Dutton, and it was up to the Americans' manager to reach an agreement with the players.

Harry Frost, right-winger on trial here from Hershey, was sent back to that club along with two rookie defencemen, Frankie Eddolls and Bob Goldham. Either of the rookies is subject to immediate recall.

A third rookie defenceman, Ernie Dickens, was shipped to Providence, while Mornie Mann, who has been commuting between the Leafs and various American League clubs for the past few years, goes to Pittsburgh.

RIDES FOUR WINNERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Jockey Don Meade booted home four winners at the Empire City race park Thursday for top riding honors. Meade scored aboard a $43.70 longshot, Ring Star, in the second race. He followed up with Cut Rate in the third, Grail Bird in the fourth and Cross Question in the seventh.

Former Baseball Great Reminisces

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Baseball's first home-run king, John (Bucky) Freeman, rounded out 70 years of living Thursday—still keenly interested in the sport, but convinced that bygones should be bygones.

"The fans don't give a whoop about what happened 25 or 35 years ago," said the man who clouded 25 homers in 1899 to gain fame and establish a record that remained unsurpassed until Babe Ruth collected 30 round-trippers 20 years later.

"They live in the present and all this guff about the game being better in the old days does not interest them. Besides I think it's a pretty darned good game as it stands and probably a trifle more interesting—more of a spectacle—than it was in my day."

Freeman rose from Wilkes-Barre amateur baseball ranks and spent 34 years in the majors as an active player, retiring from Boston Red Sox in 1925 to become a scout for St. Louis Browns. He gave up that post in 1931 and has been taking it easy ever since.

An outfielder, the largest salary he ever received was $1,500.

DIROCHER WANTS TO USE SWEENEY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said Thursday he was making "unqualified recommendations" to general manager Larry MacPhail that Bill Sweeney, deposed manager of the Hollywood Club, be employed by the Dodger organization.

"We need men like Sweeney in our outfit," Durocher told newsmen. "I don't know that we'll get him, but we are going to try. I cannot understand why Hollywood dropped him because he is universally recognized as one of the smartest men in baseball and an outstanding manager."

Durocher did not say what post might be in line for Sweeney but intimated he might be offered the managership of Brooklyn's Montreal club in the International League.

SERVICES SOCCER

Saturday afternoon at 2.30 at the Naval Barracks grounds a soccer game will be played between composite elevens from the Army and Navy. With strong sides selected a fast match is anticipated.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A muffed foul fly at Sportsman's Park four years ago and a circuit court jury decided Wednesday the error was worth $4,500 to Mrs. Mildred B. Saxton.

She was awarded that amount in a damage suit against the St. Louis National Baseball Club. Mrs. Saxton claimed she suffered chest injuries August 27, 1937, when struck by a ball as she sat in the grandstand watching batting practice.

485, low score 416, handicap 108. Total 1,566.

Foundry won two.

YESTERDAY . . .

there was no Community Chest. There was no need for one. When Farmer Brown's barn burned down, the neighbors all rallied round and helped build a new one. They realized that some day they might need help. They realized that the community couldn't progress with hardship and poverty in its midst. They helped one another. They built Canada. But . . .

TODAY . . .

the community is so large effective aid to the needy is impossible without organization. That is why the Community Chest was instituted. Neighbor still helps neighbor. But he does it with an organization that is as efficient as we know how to make it. He does it in the economical way. He does it through the COMMUNITY CHEST.

Hockey Gossip

Chances are the National Hockey League will adopt the idea of stationing a linesman at each of the blue lines to call off-sides during the approaching season. At the moment the question apparently is whether they will be on the ice on skates or in a seat on the rail.

General Manager Frank Patrick of Montreal Canadiens suggested the innovation at last week's meeting of the league's governors, and it has been tried during the current week's exhibition games with general approval arising. A telegraphic vote of club officials is to be taken on the matter before a decision is made.

Art Chapman of the New York Americans; Frankie Boucher, New York Rangers; Dick Irvin, Canadiens, and Hap Day, Toronto Maple Leafs have expressed approval of the change.

Chapman thinks the linesmen should be off the ice. "Put them in chairs like tennis officials," he said. Boucher says ditto. "Get them off the ice, they clutter it up standing there," declared the Ranger coach.

If the system used by the Rangers and Amerks in their exhibition games is followed it's going to be tough on the referee. In the first of those contests the referee handled all the face-offs, and one of them staggered off the ice afterward declaring: "That's too much work." Club officials must have heard him, for they used two referees during Wednesday night's game. One did nothing but face off the puck.

There must be something to this color business after all. Dick Irvin of Canadians threatened to dress his club in white sweaters for the season because the "whites" were beating the "reds" in the exhibition games consistently.

Driver in Tears At Boy's Inquest

"I saw the little boy facing me. All that I could see was his face. He was about a car length away. I applied my brakes. He seemed to come through the air towards me. He landed on the hood of the car. I ran into a ditch."

As she told her story to a coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of nine-year-old Gordon Flaherty, 3268 Alder Street, at Cloverdale Avenue and Alder Street last Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Margaret Goode, 3106 Washington Avenue, driver of the car which struck the boy, broke into tears but regained control of herself and continued.

The verdict at the inquest held at Sands Mortuary Ltd. this morning before Coroner E. C. Hart, was accidental death.

Mrs. Goode, represented by Roy Manzer, said she was traveling east on Cloverdale Avenue at a speed between 20 and 25 miles an hour. Just before the junction of Alder Street she met a truck coming in the opposite direction. Immediately after the truck passed, the youngster appeared before her on a bicycle. In the front seat of the car with Mrs. Goode at the time were her two children, aged five and a half and three years.

Nine-year-old Robert Lindahl, a playmate of Gordon, said he loaned him his mother's bicycle to go to the store. He had remained at the home of Gordon's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Thorsteinson, 3268 Alder Street, where the boy had been staying while his parents were in the Cariboo.

Little Victor Baratta, nine years, who said he was in the same class at school as Gordon, saw Gordon ride from Cloverdale Avenue into Alder Street and then turn around and ride across Cloverdale Avenue again. It was at that time he was struck.

Sergeant Eric Elwell of the Saanich police said there was a skid mark 52 feet long on the road made by the car. The car's brakes were in excellent condition, he said. The accident occurred at about 3.30 in the afternoon. The road was dry and vision was clear.

Gordon and Finar Thorsteinson, uncles of the dead boy; Percival J. Hayward, 916 Cloverdale Avenue; Mrs. Alice Hayward, his wife; James Wilson, employee of Sands Mortuary; Peter Plewett, seven years, and Dr. B. L. Newton also gave evidence.

Dr. Newton said the boy was dead when he arrived in the police ambulance at Jubilee Hospital at 3.55. He died from head injuries.

Before the jury retired, Coroner Hart instructed its members that a manslaughter verdict in this case would be entirely out of the rule.

Members of the jury were: Phillip Harrison, foreman; Frank Waring, George Farey, Charles Powell, James Bawdon and Henry Vogel.

In Saanich Police Court Thursday a resident of Gordon Head was fined $5 for allowing cattle to run at large.

TOWN TOPICS

Oak Bay firemen extinguished a chimney fire at 509 Oliver Street at 6.30 Thursday evening.

A motorist was fined $10 in Saanich Police Court Thursday for crossing the yellow line on Quadra Street while passing another car on a curve. Two other motorists were fined $10 for speeding.

In City Police Court today six motorists were fined $250 each on parking charges. One was fined $10 for speeding, another $5 for making a u-turn and another $5 for not stopping at a stop sign.

An iron bedstead placed on the Gonzales street car tracks of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., Thursday night, held up service for a short time. Police believed it was the work of vandals in the district who have damaged street cars on that route several times recently by placing obstructions on the tracks.

The Alberta Association will hold a dance in the A.O.F. Hall tonight at 8.15. After a general meeting to organize further efforts of the club, there will be a Halloween dance, with refreshments and favors for the dancers. Some of Miss Nellie Small's pupils will present a Dutch play.

Sailor Adrift in Ambulance

Leads Police Merry Chase

A sailor in a naval ambulance ran wild in the city, Oak Bay and Esquimalt Thursday night and after a half-hour chase was stopped at the point of a gun on Beach Drive.

The sailor, said to be on stoppage of leave at Esquimalt Naval Barracks, made his get-away by taking one of the naval ambulances and driving nonchalantly to the barracks gate. The gate was opened automatically for the ambulance and away went the sailor toward the city.

His departure was discovered soon after and Esquimalt police were notified. He was seen to pass the Esquimalt Municipal Hall and the city police and the naval patrol in town were notified.

The naval patrol placed their station wagon across Johnson Street and tried to flag the ambulance down as it came speeding across the bridge with siren wailing. The ambulance swished past the blockade.

It was then chased through the city. The Oak Bay police were notified. The chase went through

Accused Heard In Fraud Trial

Herbert B. Whiffen, jointly charged with Robert P. Golby with conspiracy to defraud Mrs. Evelyn Violet Westinghouse, was under cross-examination by J. B. Clearhue, K.C., crown prosecutor, in their Assize Court trial today.

Whiffen went on the stand after a motion by P. J. Sinnott to have the case dismissed on the grounds of an inadequate indictment had been ruled out by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, presiding judge.

Appearing in the uniform of an R.C.A.F. leading aircraftman, Whiffen, stated he had been stationed at Toronto and at Vancouver and had been in the latter city when arrested. He said he had known Golby for six years and had seen him when he came to Victoria during the later part of July. They had discussed the possibility of Golby joining the R.C.A.F., and Golby had expressed a desire to join as a pilot, witness said.

Whiffen testified he had told Golby his chances of becoming a pilot would be enhanced if he took a special flying course in Toronto and Golby had indicated he might be able to get the funds for such instruction.

USED GOLBY'S MONEY. Whiffen stated he had accompanied Golby to the Westinghouse home and had, on a second trip, secured a $200 cheque from Mrs. Westinghouse. Golby, witness said, had asked him to keep the money for him and he had deposited $100 in the Bank of Toronto for transfer to Vancouver and had taken another $100 to Vancouver himself. It was Golby's money, he said. Whiffen stated he had used $100 of it to pay a lawyer and had intended to repay Golby when Golby left to take his Toronto course. He had expected to be transferred east for a course himself, witness said, and hoped the two would go together.

Witness stated he had sought to have Golby delay his course when he had found he himself was not to be transferred. He told Golby of his action in using $100 to pay his lawyer and Golby had suggested he (the witness) notify the Westinghouses of his action.

DECEIVED GOLBY. Whiffen stated he had agreed to do this, but had written another letter to the Westinghouses instead. Golby had not learned of that letter until he and Whiffen were on the boat returning to Victoria under arrest, Whiffen stated. He referred to his interrogation by Corporal T. G. Parsloe of the R.C.M.P. in connection with the Westinghouse matter, said he had been given no warning and had not been officially placed under arrest, although he knew he could not leave the R.C.M.P. office after he had been taken there. He said at one time during the interrogation the corporal had stated anything he said might be used against him.

He told of his incarceration and his return to Victoria, stating he and Golby had written a letter on the boat seeking an interview with the Westinghouses in the hope of explaining the matter to them.

FIRST BAPTIST. A jolly Halloween masquerade party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Edna Middleton, Quadra Street, by members of First Baptist Y.P. ## Award Grants Wage Increase Painters in Vancouver are granted an increase from $0 to 90 cents an hour in their wages through a unanimous arbitration board award announced today by the labor department.

The award was made by George H. Dorrell, C. W. Pritchard and J. Cawdron, who heard the evidence in a dispute between the employers, painters and their employees. It does not affect war work, nor contracts entered into before August 7.

PROWLER ESCAPES

A prowler who smashed a window in Wilcox's radio store, 648 Fisgard Street, at 12.15 this morning failed to gain entrance to the premises and escaped, police reported.

The man was seen by a roomer at the Delhi Hotel to climb over a fence at the rear of the radio store. He then disappeared.

Sergeant J. Blackstock and Detective L. Callan investigated.

Cyclist Hurt

George Whitehead, Y.M.C.A., a C.P.R. telegraph boy, received injuries to his right knee when his bicycle and a car driven by Henry Plett, Sutherland, Sask., collided at Fort and Blanshard Streets at 5.45 Thursday evening.

Plett, whose Victoria address was given as 852 Leslie Drive, was turning north on Blanshard Street from Fort Street and the cyclist was riding west on Fort when the collision occurred.

A meeting of the City Council in committee of the whole was called for Monday by Mayor Andrew McGavin to discuss matters related to the water rate charged to Oak Bay.

Graduation Ball Feature Dance

Playing in Chicago this week, Col. de Basil's original Ballet Russe are securing many favorable comments as they appear in revivals and new ballets. One of the most popular ballets is the sparkling romp to Strauss tunes called Graduation Ball. This has been demanded again and again by delighted audiences.

Another favorite is the highly dramatic and exciting ballet Paganini. Danced to music by Rachmaninoff, the title role taken by Dmitri Rostoff, the ballet, according to the Montreal Star, is "one of the most important and interesting productions of Russian ballet."

Tickets are going fast at the box office at Ballantyne's, Douglas Street, for this internationally-acclaimed company, which will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre November 17 and 18.

Yesterday Mayor McGavin with Aldermen J. A. Worthington and P. E. George discussed with Reeve L. W. Woodhouse, Councilors R. Angus and Frank Turley of Oak Bay certain repairs to Willows exhibition ground structures bordering Cadboro Bay Road.

'T for Tommy' Didn't Return

WITH THE R.C.A.F. ON THE NORTH SEA COAST (CP) — Darkness settled down over the air field as the last planes took off for the Netherlands coast.

It was a cold night, with salty rain blowing in from the North Sea, and Flt.-Lt. C. M. Warren of Toronto, medical officer of the R.C.A.F. coastal command squadron at the station, was bundled up like an Eskimo in a fur-lined flying jacket.

The Canadians, grounded all the previous week because of even worse flying conditions, were out almost in full force. Some were over the Netherlands coast looking for Nazi shipping, some were on cross-country training flights, and some were practicing night landings.

There were German planes in the area, but no one paid much attention to them. Raids in that district are almost a nightly affair and only a handful of people stayed out in the cold to watch the fireworks display which lasted less than 20 minutes.

P.O. Bill Cameron of Vancouver brought his plane down from the night after a half dozen landings and muttered a few unkindly words about ground defences. He had flown through the barrage area and almost caught some of the shells meant for Nazi raiders. "Damned indecent of them," he said as he landed "They told me there was an enemy craft about so I followed him in. Then what did they do but fire at me. A fellow isn't safe anywhere these days."

More planes came back—P.O. Bill Shankland of Vancouver from a landing practice.

"T for Tommy," with P.O. Frank Hagarty of Sarnia, Ont., at the controls, and Sgts. Don Mather of North Gower, Ont., and C.J.F. McCrum of Ottawa, and an R.A.F. pilot officer in his crew, was the next plane due back.

An hour went by and there was no word from it. Sgt. Pilots Bob Mullen of Canora, Sask., and J. K. Abbott of Montreal, arrived almost together. They, too, had seen nothing but the night and

He came as a boy from the Old Boys' Naval Brigade and subsequently served in the Jardine-Matheson Line on the China seas and with the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand. Capt. H. Davenport, R.C.A.M.C., is quartermaster of a field ambulance unit. He left Oak Bay High School in 1916 at the age of 17 to go overseas with the 196th Universities Battalion, C.E.F. After the war he studied pharmacy, joining the 13th Field Ambulance as soon as it was organized. At the outbreak of hostilities, eager for active service, he reverted in rank and acted as garrison adjutant and later was in charge of medical stores at Work Point Barracks.

had heard nothing from "T for Tommy."

P.O. Dale Cowperwaite of Toronto came in next after being reported several miles off his course. "T for Tommy" was two hours overdue.

"A lousy night," Cowperwaite said. "The wireless went out, my lights went out, 'George,' the automatic pilot, wasn't working, the compass went off. In fact the only thing that worked was the engines. And we didn't see anything either."

The crews huddled around a big kitchen stove, drinking hot tea, eating meat pies and cursing the blackness of the night—one of the few on which they had returned with nothing to report.

They waited another hour—Cameron, Shankland, McCulloch, Waddell, Mullen, Abbott, Cowperwaite and their crews, and Warren. Then, wearily and saying few words, they piled into their transport and drove slowly through the blackout to the operations room to turn in their reports.

These were brief and to the point and the briefest was in the space reserved for three young Canadians and an Englishman. There, for the first time since the squadron was formed, went down the one word—"missing." "T for Tommy" didn't come home.

A noted athlete, commander of an R.C.A.F. squadron overseas and commanding officer at No. 4 Bombing and Gunnery School, Fingal, Wing Commander Van Vliet will succeed Group Captain F. W. Long.

BONUS PLEA TO GO TO CITY COUNCIL

The city finance committee will place before the full council the brief of civic employees supporting their claims for cost-of-living bonuses, Alderman W. L. Morgan, chairman, stated today.

The brief was read by F. L. Shaw, president of the Civic Employees' Federation of Victoria, at a meeting with the finance committee attended by delegates of all branches of the civic service Wednesday. The brief was signed by 380 employees.

The brief referred to the unanimous petition from all employees for a bonus, not as a wage boost but as a means of making up purchasing power that has been reduced through increased prices. It noted the government's order-in-council on the question and stated that exclusion of civic groups from those enjoying the benefits of a bonus was not democratic.

The document listed the federal index on increased living costs and suggested a bonus based on 25 cents a week for each 1 per cent increase in the cost of living replace the $5.50 bonus given to certain low-wage groups by the council early in the year. The proposed bonus would cover all employees, not just the small wage-earners.

Members of the finance committee said it would cost $100,000 to grant the bonus.

There is one thing people have got to do. That is, to adjourn politics, stop it, shut it off, whether it is in the national government or in the labor unions. Al Smith, former U.S. presidential candidate.

New Ford Cars for 1942

Designed to provide maximum wartime motoring values of economy, comfort and styling, the new Ford cars for 1942 are offered in two series by Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited. De luxe models are available in four body types—the Tudor is pictured above—and the Special series in three. Both have distinctive front end treatment with a wide radiator grille and a new arrangement of headlamps and parking lights. Bodies are lower and riding qualities have been improved throughout. Rubber is used extensively in engine mountings, spring shackles to eliminate metal to metal contacts. This together with scientific soundproofing gives a really quiet ride. A new track bar and improved steering mechanism contribute to better road control. Interiors are richly upholstered in a smart two-tone effect achieved with leather and cloth in combination. Both De luxe and Special cars are powered with the famous Ford V-8 engine which delivers smooth power with the all-important feature of low gas consumption.

Saanich Ratepayers

To Vote Second Time
On Water Plebiscite

A plebiscite on a $350,000 by-law for a water supply system from wells at Cordova Bay will be placed before Saanich ratepayers for the second time when the annual municipal election is held December 13.

The municipal council, in a meeting which lasted four hours Thursday night, unanimously passed a motion to this effect submitted by Councillor J. L. Hobbs.

The plebiscite was voted upon last September 20 and was defeated by 81 votes. Passing of the plebiscite requires a three-fifths majority of the votes.

The motion to present the by-law again followed discussion by councillors of four proposed plans to supply the Gordon Head, Tolmie Avenue, 10-Mile Point and North Quadra areas with a temporary water system from the Cordova Bay wells. The proposals were submitted by the municipal engineer, H. H. Allen, at the council's request.

The proposed plans which would cost $85,680, $91,630, $85,580 and $127,060, were designed as a temporary measure to relieve an acute condition in the water system in the areas east of Quadra Street.

Councillors felt the cost of the proposed systems was far too high when the whole of the water area of Saanich could be served by a $350,000 system under the by-law which was presented in September.

"I say we should put the plebiscite before the ratepayers again on election day," commented Councillor George Austin.

"Let's stick to our original by-law," Councillor L. Hagan agreed.

Letters will be sent the officer commanding Western Air Command and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Lieut. Allan Chambers, M.P., asking for a grant to compensate for destruction of certain roads at Patricia Bay by trucks and machinery at work on the R.C.A.F. airport.

The $30 paid to the Saanich Health Centre each month to care for each person coming under municipal jurisdiction, was increased to $35 due to the increased cost of living.

Councillor Austin reported that improvements had been made to the bus service on the Douglas-Agnes route of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd., as requested in a petition signed by 243 residents of Ward 4.

The service was extended to include Judah Avenue, effective November 1. The new route will be from Agnes Street to Glanford Avenue to Judah Avenue to Carey Road to Agnes Street. Buses from town will leave at 10 in the morning, 1 in the afternoon and 6.15 in the evening.

The extension will be offered on a temporary basis. Its continuance will be subject to sustaining patronage.

A resolution from the city of Port Alberni that Cathedral Grove timber area be created a provincial government park was endorsed.

A gravel pit near the Mount Newton High School will be made safe by the gravel contractors who agreed to push down the steep sides. The South Saanich Women's Institute asked that the pit be fenced but councillors did not think this would prove satisfactory.

Fairbridge Farm School will be sold a dental engine owned by the municipality for $1. Councillors were informed they did not have the power to give the engine away but it could be sold or loaned.

Council was notified of the resignation from the Board of School Trustees of Trustee Mrs. G. K. Laidlaw.

Reeve L. W. Passmore and Councillors Austin and Oliver were appointed members of a Court of Revision on the municipal voters' list. They will sit November 15 at 10 in the morning at the municipal hall.

* Appreciation for use of property on Orilla Street for a Hal-loween bonfire was expressed by the Tillicum Parent-Teacher Association.

The Oil, Controller, Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa, informed the council of changes in the regulations which permitted municipalities to supply gasoline to passenger cars owned or operated by the municipality.

A tender on water meters from Gordon & Belyea Ltd. was accepted.

The municipal clerk was appointed controller of finances for the municipality.

Storm windows will be installed and weather stripping work will be done at the Health Centre at a cost of $40.

A request from meter readers and collectors of the municipality for overcoats was turned down.

The municipal health doctor, Dr. J. L. Gayton, referred to the housing shortage caused by war conditions and said: "Someone will have to deal with it soon."

He said he had found people living in trailers and shacks where they should not be, but they had no place to go.

"A sailor's wife I found living in a trailer told me she'd go anywhere if I could find her a house," the doctor said.

Councillor Warren said he had heard of a woman paying $25 a month for one room in which she slept, cooked and ate. Several comments followed:

"The wives and families of men of the services moved here from other parts are creating the problem."

"The situation is 100 per cent worse in Halifax and Ottawa."

"We can't do anything. It's the government's responsibility."

"Why doesn't the government put up some barracks for families of men of the forces?"

"It will soon create a problem in the schools."

"In the city it is worse than here."

"We'll have them living in chicken houses soon."

A request from Margaret Buchanan, Colquitz, to rent 13 lots for cattle grazing purposes was left in the hands of Councillor Austin, the clerk and engineer, with power to act.

POSSIBLE TO CUT
DEATHS IN HALF

"We could cut the death rate in Greater Victoria by 50 per cent," said Dr. G. F. Amyot before the Lions Club, Thursday, "if we had one efficient, full-time health service for the whole area."

Dr. Amyot then particularized, saying that deadly communicable diseases could be controlled more easily and there would be far less birth deaths.

Dr. Amyot said disease followed the trend of population and respected no border lines, and that the municipal health agencies at the present time could not operate over their respective demarcation lines. They were built up on a basis that recognized municipal boundaries.

He said that every war brought epidemics, and under the present health system there was no machinery in Greater Victoria to protect civilians and men in the services from any such plague.

"We cannot meet the problem," he said, "and it becomes more important now than ever to do something about it."

Such an improvement would cost more, the speaker said, but only one-third the cost would be borne by the civic taxpayer. The same method of financing would be used as was in developing the efficient service in Vancouver.

He appealed to the Lions and to citizens of Greater Victoria to support one unified full-time and efficient health department and to broach the subject to members of the city and municipal councils and school board members.

Oyster Bay Farmer
Killed By Bull

NANAIMO (CP)—Gustaf Peramki, elderly Oyster Bay farmer, was gored to death by a bull on his farm Thursday morning before the eyes of his daughter, who vainly attempted to drive the animal off.

Peramki had apparently been cleaning the bull's stall when it attacked him and knocked him down. His daughter, Mrs. H. Matson, noticed his plight and tried to attract the bull's attention. Peramki managed to get outside the barn but the enraged bull pinned him as he tried to reach the protection of a fence.

A neighbor, Harold Takala, who was called, shot the animal.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT appeared more stern than ever when he made his Navy Day address from the Mayflower Hotel Monday evening. He quoted Admiral Farragut's famous remark, "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead," as symbolizing the present attitude of the United States Navy. Today, following news of the sinking by a German torpedo of the U.S. destroyer Reuben James, he said there would be no change in U.S. policy, which means U.S. naval forces will continue to comb the north Atlantic while convoying merchant ships to Iceland, and "shoot on sight" if Nazi submarines or raiders appear.

LANG APPROACH
MAKES SMASH HIT

Whenever 20th Century-Fox has a romantic threesome in a frothy, sophisticated musical comedy, Walter Lang is drafted to direct.

"Moon Over Miami," now at the Atlas Theatre, is just such a comedy, and Don Ameche, Betty Grable and Robert Cummings form a romantic threesome, and that's why Walter Lang was the director.

That light Lang touch has been ascribed to several factors. For one thing the director was formerly an artist and illustrator.

Canadian M.P.'s
Visit Liverpool

LIVERPOOL (CP)—The Canadian parliamentary delegation studying wartime conditions in Britain today toured the Liverpool dock area, visited the ministry of food storage centre and lunched with the Lord Mayor of this great port.

"The motto of your dock workers seems to be 'full steam ahead,' and this is our motto in Canada, where we are doing everything possible to supply you with all you need to achieve victory," said W. Ross MacDonald, Liberal, Brantford.

"We shall go back to Canada favorably impressed by what we have seen of this country's war effort."

From Liverpool the delegation is scheduled to go to Carlisle, where the visitors will spend the night before visiting Glasgow tomorrow.

Now comes another, a picture hailed by the British press as the greatest ever made in that country, "The Stars Look Down," which is currently at the Plaza Theatre. From a novel by the author of "The Citadel," it brings to the screen a blast of furious drama; the story of a great underground empire and its men and women.

OAK BAY THEATRE

GENE TIERNEY
OZARK QUEEN

"Belle Starr," the petticoat terror of the Ozarks, comes vividly to life on the screen in the 20th Century-Fox Technicolor production bearing her name, which is now at the Dominion Theatre.

Lovely Gene Tierney, a flaming new personality, won the role of the beautiful bandit queen opposite Randolph Scott, who portrays Sam Starr, the daring guerrilla leader who loved and married Belle.

Belle was a far cry from the rough frontier woman her two-gun history might indicate. Studio research experts uncovered the fact that she patronized mas-seuses to keep her figure curvaceous and went to the best dress-makers to enhance her allure.

'Nothing But Truth'
Coming to Capitol

Driving a blind mule up and down the furrows of a tract of land meant a lot of traveling to Willie Best, colored farm boy, but not the kind he wanted to do. Willie wanted to break away and see what the outside world beyond the furrows looked like.

It looks pretty good to Willie, for he is now one of the top colored comedians in Hollywood, making his 29th film appearance as Bob Hope's comic valet in the Paramount comedy, "Nothing But the Truth," which opens Friday at the Capitol Theatre, co-starring Pauline Goddard with Hope.

YORK THEATRE

The most nerve-racking job in Warner Bros.' studio recently belonged to Dr. Leo Morton Schulman.

Dr. Schulman, well-known Hollywood surgeon, was the technical adviser for the eerie motion picture, "The Return of Dr. X," which is currently at the York Theatre.

The technical expert had two actors, John Littel and Dennis Morgan, who never were in a hospital except for a casual visit, playing surgeons and haematologists, and he practically had to dress these two fractious charges every morning before they showed up before Director Vince Sherman.

CADET THEATRE

"Who?" and three other noted Jerome Kern melodies of the original "Sunny," come to the screen in Anna Neagle's streamlined film version of the stage success. Ray Bolger and John Carroll head the featured cast of the RKO Radio offering now at the Cadet Theatre.

Pumpkins of Giant Size Grow in France

Once more Halloween comes along. It is a holiday which most children enjoy, but which many grown folks would like to do without.

In these days children seem to be a bit more thoughtful than in some years of the past. Many of them have learned that it is not "good fun" to cause hardship to other persons.

I do not mean that all children have stopped making trouble. There are some who go around "soaping windows," and others do things which are worse than that.

Yet I think that in general there has been a change for the better. More Halloween parties take place in these days. At those parties, boys and girls can enjoy themselves without going forth to do damage.

Policemen also have played a part in bringing about a better kind of Halloween. It is a custom in most cities for the police to "look sharp" on Halloween night. Sometimes those who cause damage are placed under arrest.

For most boys and girls Halloween is only a time for good-natured enjoyment. They carve up pumpkins, and follow other customs which hurt no one.

The Halloween idea goes back hundreds of years. At one time it was believed that spirits of the dead came back to earth on the last night of October. The spirits were supposed to return so they would be ready for All Hallows Day, or All Saints Day, on the first of November.

That odd belief helps to explain the talk about witches riding on broomsticks on Halloween. It has been fancied that witches had special relation with spirits, or "ghosts."

Pumpkins did not get into Halloween until after white settlers reached the New World. Old records tell us that the American Indians planted pumpkins amid fields of corn.

There is reason to believe that pumpkins were raised long ago in Asia, as well as in the New World. Yet we have no proof that they were planted in Europe until the year 1570.

Europe was late in obtaining pumpkins, but some of those it produces nowadays are larger than any I have seen on this side of the Atlantic. A kind of pumpkin known as the "great yellow gourd" is grown in France and some other parts of Europe.

At times it grows to be five or six feet wide and weighs more than 200 pounds. A great yellow gourd may have enough "flesh" in it for 100 pies.

HOROSCOPE

NOVEMBER 1

Good and evil appear balanced in the forecast for today. Differences of opinion may be resented and may lead to trouble. Finances come under a favorable influence and certain speculations should prove profitable.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of an eventful year. Children born on this day may be diligent and resourceful.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—The other day there was an article by you in which you advised a young wife to help her husband save so as to get a start in the world. You said: "Ninety-nine per cent of the women in this land of ours who are now riding around in limousines and wearing Paris confections and ropes of pearls scripped on cotton frocks that they made themselves, and darned their stockings, and walked 20 blocks to cut-rate butcher shops to get cheap meat when they were young married women in order that the money they saved by their penny-pinching could go to pay off the note at the bank, or hire a new clerk in the store, or to expand their husband's business." But in this same paper is a news story that tells of a woman who came to this country with her husband as a poor immigrant. She worked night and day to help him get a start. And now that he is a very wealthy banker, he has thrown her out of the house and married a young girl half his age. And the old wife is living in a two-by-four apartment and riding on the street car, and the new wife is living in a magnificent mansion and rolling around in a limousine. Which of these pictures of life is the true one? As for me, I believe I will have as good a time as I can while my husband and I are young. Then when he gets a brainstorm, as men do when they feel youth slipping away, he will not have so much to tempt the sweet little gold-digger. MARY JANE.

Answer: Both pictures of life are true, Mary Jane, for anything can happen and everything does happen, but in trying to make a picture of life and decide what line of conduct is wisest to follow, we have to be guided by the general results and not by the exceptions to the rule.

I think that if you will read the stories of successful men and consider those of the people you know, you will see that it is generally the men who have had helpful wives who have achieved fame and fortune, and that it has paid the wives, even in dollars and cents, to have scrimped and saved in the beginning to assist their husbands in getting a start.

Many a woman sits in the seat of the mighty today because she made her shoulders a ladder for her husband to climb on to success and he pulled her up after him. DOROTHY DIX.
